Socrates Lucretius Camus Two Philosophical Traditions On Death:

Socrates, Lucretius, Camus Fred Wilson, 2001      Socrates, Lucretius, Camus Fred Wilson, 2001 The present essay attempts to do something that has not been done in the recent literature concerning death namely to link reasons for attitudes towards death to reasons for different metaphysical positions on human being and the place of human being in the universe Most recent discussions of death either place the topic directly in the context of nothing more than ethical considerations continued on the next page      Studies in the Ontology of Reinhardt Grossmann Javier Cumpa, 2013-05-02 Reinhardt Grossmann is one of the most sophisticated knowledgeable and original contemporary metaphysicians Although he was a student of Bergmann he influenced the development of Bergmann's metaphysics considerably No philosopher other than Grossmann defends perception to that degree against the persistent skeptical arguments He characterizes his epistemological positions as radical empiricism and radical realism By realism Grossmann mainly means the view that the material things we perceive exist It is thus also an ontological position and closely related to his empiricism Grossmann's empiricism is radical insofar as he claims that entities of all categories are perceptible even numbers and universals Grossmann's universal realism advocates a theory of abstract categories against the current naturalism He distinguishes between the world and the physical universe The latter is the domain of science the former is the subject of ontology

Montaigne and the Lives of the Philosophers Alison Calhoun, 2014-12-18 In his Essais Montaigne stresses that his theoretical interest in philosophy goes hand in hand with its practicality In fact he makes it clear that there is little reason to live our lives according to doctrine without proof that others have successfully done so Understanding Montaigne's philosophical thought therefore means not only studying the philosophies of the great thinkers but also the characters and ways of life of the philosophers themselves The focus of Montaigne and the Lives of the Philosophers Life Writing and Transversality in the Essais is how Montaigne assembled the lives of the philosophers on the pages of his Essais in order to grapple with two fundamental aims of his project first to transform the teaching of moral philosophy and next to experiment with a transverse construction of his self Both of these objectives grew out of a dialogue with the structure and content in the life writing of Plutarch and Diogenes Laertius authors whose books were bestsellers during the essayist's lifetime

Approaches to Metaphysics William Sweet, 2006-02-28 Today when systematic philosophy and reason itself are challenged both outside of and within philosophy is it still possible to do metaphysics This volume provides a broad perspective on contemporary approaches to the nature and the fundamental questions of metaphysics Drawing on scholars from continental Europe Asia Canada the United States and Great Britain and representing a variety of philosophical cultures and traditions this volume surveys and extends work in metaphysics and its implications for broader philosophical concerns e g in ethics and social philosophy in mathematics and logic and in epistemology It also addresses such questions as the role of history and historicity in undertaking metaphysics the nature of metaphysics the priority of metaphysics over epistemology and the challenges of empiricism and postmodernism      Studies in the philosophy of Herbert Hochberg Erwin Tegtmeier, 2013-05-02 Herbert Hochberg is one of the most influential analytical philosophers and one of the most influential critics of analytical philosophy He disputed with almost all leading analytical philosophers from Quine Goodman and Wilfrid Sellars to David Lewis and David Armstrong His point of view is ontological and he harks back to the origins of analytical philosophy where he finds unknown precursors of current views And he finds parallels to contemporary non analytic philosophies In his own ontology he tries to dispense with simple particulars      Body, Mind and Self in Hume's Critical Realism Fred Wilson, 2013-05-02 This essay proposes that Hume's non substantialist bundle account of minds is basically correct The concept of a person is not a metaphysical notion but a forensic one that of a being who enters into the moral and normative relations of civil society A person is a bundle but it is also a structured bundle Hume's metaphysics of relations is argued must be replaced by a more adequate one such as that of Russell but beyond that Hume's account is essentially correct In particular it is argued that it is one's character that constitutes one's identity and that sympathy and the passions of pride and humility are central in forming and maintaining one's character and one's identity as a person But also central is one's body a person is an embodied consciousness the notion that one's body is essential to one's identity is defended at length Various concepts of mind and consciousness are examined for example neutral monism and intentionality and also the concept of privacy and our inferences to other minds      Gustav Bergmann Bruno Langlet, Jean-Maurice Monnoyer, 2013-05-02 The texts of the book are concerned with G Bergmann's open and new problems and their active role on issues in contemporary metaphysics like the ontology of ties connexions and relations problems of exemplification substrates and tropes theories particulars persistence and the metaphysics of space time and existence Papers deal with these themes by themselves or discuss them in an associated way some of them aim to clarify the complicated conceptual Relations Bergmann have enlarged with major themes of philosophers like Aristotle Brentano Meinong and Sellars The purpose of the book is to provide some light on his central interests but also in regard of the evolution of the actual scope of his thought      Relations and Predicates Herbert Hochberg, Kevin Mulligan, 2013-05-02 Interest in the age old problems of universals and individuation has received a new impetus from the current revival of ontology in the analytic tradition the development of theories of individual properties and the related application of mereological calculi to the analysis of predication and the particular problems posed by relational predication and the nature of particulars The essays explore aspects of the history of the issues and attempt to deal with the issues and with challenges to the distinctions that give rise to them They continue the debates stemming from the revival of metaphysics rooted in Frege's realism the Austrian tradition of Brentano Husserl Meinong and the early 20th century revolt against idealism embodied in writings of Moore and Russell and culminating in Wittgenstein's Tractatus      Paul and His Social Relations Stanley E. Porter, Christopher D. Land, 2012-11-13 This volume addresses many of the questions surrounding Paul and his social relations including how to define and analyze such relations their relationship to Paul's historical and social context how Paul related to numerous friends and foes and the implications for understanding Paul's letters as well as his theology The External World and Our Knowledge of it Fred Wilson, 2008-01-01 David Hume is often considered to have been a sceptic particularly in his conception of the individual's knowledge of the external world However a closer examination of his works gives a much different impression of this aspect of Hume's philosophy one that is due for a thorough scholarly analysis This study argues that Hume was in fact a critical realist in the early twentieth century sense a period in which the term was used to describe the epistemological and ontological theories of such philosophers as Roy Wood Sellars and Bertrand Russell Carefully situating Hume in his historical context that is relative to Aristotelian and rationalist traditions Fred Wilson makes important and unique insights into Humean philosophy Analyzing key sections of the Treatise the Enquiry and the Dialogues concerning Natural Religion Wilson offers a deeper understanding of Hume by taking into account the philosopher's theories of the external world Such a reading the author explains is not only more faithful to the texts but also reinforces the view of Hume as a critical realist in light of twentieth century discussions between externalism and internalism and between coherentists and foundationalists Complete with original observations and ideas this study is sure to generate debates about Humean philosophy critical realism and the limits of perceptual knowledge Ontology and Analysis Laird Addis, Greg Jesson, Erwin Tegtmeier, 2013-05-02 Gustav Bergmann 1906-1987 was arguably the greatest ontologist of the twentieth century in pursuing the fundamental questions of first philosophy as deeply as any philosopher of any time In 2006 and 2007 international conferences devoted solely to Bergmann's work were held at the University of Iowa in the USA Universit de Provence in France and Universit degli Studi Roma Tre in Italy The papers in this volume were presented at the first of these conferences in Iowa City where Bergmann taught for nearly four decades after escaping from Europe following the dissolution of the Vienna Circle of which he had been the youngest member There are nine philosophical papers reminiscences of three of his students and a complete bibliography of his published writings Acquaintance, Ontology, and Knowledge Fred Wilson, 2013-05-02 These essays bring together forty years of work in ontology Intentionality negation universals bare particulars tropes general facts relations the myth of the myth of the given are among the topics covered Bergmann Quine Sellars Russell Wittgenstein Hume Bradley Hochberg Dummett Frege Plato are among the philosophers discussed The essays criticize non Humean notions of cause they criticize the notion that besides simple atomic facts there are also negative facts and general facts They defend a realism of properties as universals against nominalism bare particulars a qualified realism with regard to logical form a Russellian account of relations and an account of minds and intentionality which is opposed to materialism but is also a form of methodological behaviourism In general the ontology is one of logical atomism and empiricism throughout rooted in a Principle of Acquaintance Reading Romans with Roman Eyes James R. Harrison, 2020-06-22 Paul's letter to the Romans has a long history in Christian dogmatic battles But how might the letter have been heard by an audience in Neronian Rome James R Harrison answers that question through a reader response approach grounded in deep investigations of the material and ideological culture of the city from Augustus to Nero Inscriptional archaeological monumental and numismatic evidence in addition to a breadth of literary material allows him to describe the ideological value system of the Julio Claudian world which would have shaped the perceptions and expectations of Paul's readers Throughout Harrison sets prominent Pauline themes his obligation to Greeks and barbarians newness of life and of creation against the power of death the body of Christ boasting in glory and God's purpose in and for Israel in startling juxtaposition with Roman ideological themes The result is a richer and more complex understanding of the letter's argument and its possible significance for contemporary readers The Philosophy of Sir William Mitchell (1861-1962) W. Martin

Davies,2003 The work of Scottish born Sir William Mitchell is examined the Hughes Professor of Philosophy and Vice Chancellor of the University of Adelaide and the major philosopher who lived in South Australia Essays on Heidegger and European Philosophy William Vaughan,2002 This work answers questions such as What elements of the Pauline view of time did the supposed atheist Heidegger bring from his study of the epistles to his work Being and Time And why did Heidegger remain so silent about the Holocaust and his dalliance with National Socialism The Potential Role of Art in Kierkegaard's Description of the Individual Scott Koterbay,2004 Kierkegaard scholarship has generally focused on either existential or religious issues interpreting Kierkegaard's understanding of the individual's relationship to itself and to the Christian God As a result of his description of the stages of development of the individual in the process of that relationship such scholarship has consistently ignored the inherent potential to articulate an aesthetic system which would describe art as a means of facilitating the development in a positive direction This book offers the first thorough description of a Kierkegaardian aesthetic which does not demote art to a merely sensuous and negative influence it is an explication of the specific feature of Kierkegaard's description of the individual such as communication repetition and the self within the context of a positive notion of art as well as an analysis of art itself the artist and the fundamental value of art as a profitable means of influencing the individuals While this book is unique for placing art into a central role within Kierkegaard scholarship it also remains critical of such a role maintaining the importance of recognizing the limitations which art has The final Science and Ethics Paul Kurtz,David Koepsell,2007-06-05 This volume presents a unique collection of authors who generally maintain that science can help us make wise choices and that an increase in scientific knowledge can help modify our ethical values and bring new ethical principles into social awareness Ultimate Reality and Meaning ,2003
