Vienna and the New Wohnkultur, 1918-1938 Michelle Jackson-Beckett, 2024-03-20. While the domestic sphere might seem tangential to the dire political situation and humanitarian crises of interwar Europe, it was nevertheless at the forefront of debates about cultural identity and economic policy in the Viennese press, culture and arts. Vienna and the New Wohnkultur 1918-1938 explores why and how the Viennese design landscape was set apart aesthetically and theoretically from other European explorations of modern design. Jackson-Beckett examines interior design, exhibitions, press and debates about modern living in interwar Vienna, an overlooked area of modern European architecture and design history, arguing for a reconsideration of the contours of European modernism. The text analyses varied interpretations of modern domestic culture. Wohnkultur in Vienna and explores why these interpretations were distinct from other strands of European modernism. Vienna and the New Wohnkultur introduces new research and translation of primary sources on flexible, adaptable and affordable design by architects, designers and retailers. Vienna's design discourse also prefigured important postmodern and contemporary discussions on historicism, eclecticism, empathy and user experience. Through extensive new research in archival and period sources, Jackson-Beckett illustrates how design ideas, taste and portrayals of domestic culture of fin de siècle Viennese Modernism, Wiener Moderne, were also deployed as forms of cultural and national identity both during the early years of the Social Democratic government in Vienna, 1918-1934, and later under the fascist state, 1934-1938.
