Chanting in the Hillsides Jeaneane D. Fowler, Merv Fowler, 2009 In 1983 a tiny group of people in Cardiff and a married couple in Aberporth West Wales were the only Welsh members of Soka Gakkai International a Japanese movement based on the beliefs and teachings of the 13th century Buddhist Nichiren Daishonin Today there are hundreds of members in Wales and the Borders This book examines the history of the movement in these two areas and draws on original research gleaned from the members themselves The research elicits facets of their faith practices and study as well as their testimonies to the success of such beliefs and practices in their daily lives The book combines the twin goals of academic analysis of the Buddhism of Nichiren Daishonin in general with the warmth of its expression in the lives of its adherents in Wales and the Borders

Conscience in World Religions Jayne Hoose, 1999 Conscience in World Religions is a unique collection of papers which allows the reader to compare and contrast the origins and development of the concept of conscience within different Christian traditions Judaism Islam and Buddhism The first part of the book based upon extensive research of the Christian debate of conscience explores the dynamic relation between authority revelation and education for both the individual and the community It provides the reader with an insight into approaches to and interpretations of sources found within Roman Catholicism Protestantism and Orthodoxy The second part of the text provides an enthralling and scholarly study of the previously relatively unexplored Jewish Islamic and Buddhist viewpoints on the concept of conscience This book is a thought provoking collection for all those interested in exploring the many facets of this most fascinating of subjects Buddhism in Australia Cristina Rocha,Michelle Barker,2010-12-07 The number of Buddhists in Australia has grown dramatically in recent years In 2006 Buddhists accounted for 2.1 per cent of Australia's population almost doubling the 1996 figures and making it the fastest growing religion in the country This book analyses the arrival and localisation of Buddhism in Australia in the context of the globalisation of Buddhism Australia's close geographical proximity to Asia has encouraged an intense flow of people ideas practices and commodities from its neighbouring countries while at the same time allowing the development of the religion to be somewhat different to its growth in other Western countries The book seeks to explore the Buddhist experience in Australia looking at the similarities and particularities of this experience in relation to other Western countries The inception of Buddhism in Australia is investigated and a voice is provided to people on the ground who have been fundamental in making this process possible For the first time academic analysis and practitioners experience are juxtaposed to show the adaptations and challenges of Buddhism in Australia from above and below This book is a unique and valuable contribution to the study of Buddhism in the West globalization of religion and studies in Asian Religion New Steps in Religious Education Michael Keene,1999 This support pack provides a range of photocopiable worksheets which have been developed thematically to allow teaching and use alongside the topics in the pupil's book Each topic comprises a cross reference to pages in the pupil book narrative background material differentiated worksheets and information sheets and notes from the author Nothing to Do, Nowhere to Go Nhất Hạnh (Thích.),Rachel Neumann,2007 The Zen school of Mahayana Buddhism contends that each one of us is already a Buddha the enlightenment we seek is always within us waiting to be realized through mindfulness and concerted spiritual work This truth pushes us toward practice in the hopes that we may awaken our potential and live up to what is inside us This is a notion taught widely by ninth century Zen Master Lin Chi and in his tradition Thich Nhat Hanh employs the teachings and writings of Mahayana Buddhism to discuss specific topics in Buddhist study and practice With these teachings readers have the tools to awaken the Buddha within The Buddhist , The Middle Way ,2011

Seeking the Sacred with Psychoactive Substances J. Harold Ellens,2014-10-28 Can drugs be used intelligently and responsibly to expand human consciousness and heighten spirituality This two volume work presents objective scientific information and personal stories aiming to answer the question The first of its kind this intriguing two volume set objectively reports on and assesses this modern psycho social movement in world culture the constructive medical use of entheogens and related mind altering substances Covering the use of substances such as ayahuasca cannabis LSD peyote and psilocybin the work seeks to illuminate the topic in a scholarly and scientific fashion so as to lift the typical division between those who are supporters of research and exploration of entheogens and those who are strongly opposed to any such experimentation altogether. The volumes address the history and use of mind altering drugs in medical research and religious practice in the endeavor to expand and heighten spirituality and the sense of the divine providing unbiased coverage of the relevant arguments and controversies regarding the subject matter. Chapters include examinations of how psychoactive agents are used to achieve altered states in Judaism, Christianity, Islam, and Buddhism as well as in the rituals of shamanism and other less widely known faiths. This highly readable work will appeal to everyone from high school students to seasoned professors in both the secular world and in devoted church groups and religious colleges.
