

A Small Story will change your life...

A boy and a girl were playing together. The boy had a collection of marbles. The girl had some sweets with her.

The boy told the girl that he will give her all his marbles in exchange of her sweets. The girl agreed.

The boy kept the biggest and the most beautiful marble aside & gave the rest to the girl. The girl gave him all her sweets as she had promised.

That night, the girl slept peacefully. But the boy couldn't sleep as he kept wondering if the girl had hidden some sweets from him the way he had hidden his best marble.

Moral of the story:
IF you don't give hundred percent in a relationship, you'll always keep doubting in any relationship.

So give your hundred percent.

The Case for Single Motherhood Katherine Elizabeth Mack,2023-12-05 Delves into the rhetorical work of elective single mothers ESMs in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries as they sought and continue to seek to legitimize their maternal identities and family formations Scholars of rhetoric have largely overlooked the inherent rhetoricity of family In The Case for Single Motherhood Katherine Mack posits family as a central concern of rhetorical studies by reflecting on how language is used by single mothers who seek to reenvision the personal social and political meanings of family Drawing on intersectional and rhetorical theories Mack demonstrates how the category of elective single motherhood emerged in response to the historically differential treatment of unwed mothers along racial and class lines Through her readings of a range of self sponsored ESM texts guidebooks memoirs and interactive digital media written by and primarily for other ESMs and from her perspective as an elective single mother herself Mack evaluates the rhetorical power as well as the exclusions and hierarchies that the ESM label effects She analyzes how ESMs envision motherhood visions that entail their musings about who can and should mother Ultimately Mack offers women who are considering nonnormative paths to motherhood a way to affirm their maternal identities and paths without disparaging others Scholars in the fields of rhetoric and feminist rhetorical studies will find in this volume an illuminating perspective on the rhetorical power of self sponsored texts in particular Crafting a methodology to identify and evaluate the goals and effects of legitimacy work and selecting sources that bring academic attention to varied genres of self sponsored writings Mack paves the way for future rhetorical studies of motherhood and family

A Sad Life Story Kemal Sobe, 2024-04-10 Childhood even though it is difficult is actually the best period of a person A person realizes the value of his childhood in later years when he comes under the burden of life However I couldn't stay a child I had to face the pain and difficulties of life As I got older my fear of the future increased and the people around me decreased As I saw the bitter side of life and people's relationships based solely on materiality I began to deeply question why people live and what they aim for in life Did people live to love or to dominate each other When I saw that there was all kinds of material competition between people I began to think that people had put their love for humanity aside Like every child when I was young that is young enough to be considered a child I was not very emotional However as I got older as I took part in life as life took away more and more from me I became more emotional and the human factor began to become more important to me

Something Beyond Nothing? Brian Niece, 2018-07-13 In life there are a few major questions Among them are What do we gain What's new and What's the point This book creatively uses the Book of Ecclesiastes where these questions often pop up to investigate how we question what we question and why we question Along the way you will encounter some of history's great questioners Socrates Søren Kierkegaard Virginia Woolf Friedrich Nietzsche G. K. Chesterton and others though they may appear in unexpected ways Something Beyond Nothing is an experiment in finding and making meaning that focuses on the unpredictable journey of living with questions Taking the awkwardness of Ecclesiastes as a cue Brian Niece's odd book is a mix of storytelling theological analysis poetic meditation philosophical investigation drama and biblical interpretation Herein is nonfiction and fiction with no clear line between the two suggesting that our modes of meaning may be as significant as the meaning they lead us to What's more if there is something beyond nothing it may not be quite like what we think we know And the God we don't yet know may surprise us

Dilemmas and Connections Charles Taylor, 2014-04-07 There are always more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in one's philosophy and in these essays Charles Taylor turns to those things not fully imagined or avenues not wholly explored in his epochal A Secular Age Here Taylor talks in detail about thinkers who are his allies and interlocutors such as Iris Murdoch Alasdair MacIntyre Robert Brandom and Paul Celan He offers major contributions to social theory expanding on the issues of nationalism democratic exclusionism religious mobilizations and modernity And he delves even more deeply into themes taken up in A Secular Age the continuity of religion from the past into the future the nature of the secular the folly of hoping to live by reason alone and the perils of moralism He also speculates on how irrationality emerges from the heart of rationality itself and why violence breaks out again and again In A Secular Age Taylor more evidently foregrounded his Catholic faith and there are several essays here that further explore that faith Overall this is a hopeful book showing how while acknowledging the force of religion and the persistence of violence and folly we nonetheless have the power to move forward once we have given up the brittle pretensions of a narrow rationalism Trying to Catch the Wind

Josef N. Ferri,2013-03-08 When author Josef N Ferri met a senior honors student from South Park High School named Marilyn he felt an immediate spark He drew her into conversation and the two instantly became involved in something beyond teenage small talk He reconnected with her a bit later just as the second half of the 1960s began to unfold From the night of their innocent and romantic first date their journey was filled with wonder and amazement But almost immediately they were faced with huge obstacles as on that same night they almost died in an accident involving a drunken driver Ultimately confusion and misunderstanding separated them forever but by then theyd lived their most cherished dream Amid the turbulence and sociopolitical upheaval of the 1960s and the painful chaos of their individual troubled home lives they found an extraordinary sanctuary in their deep love and it was a love that was more than love Somehow it still survives in Trying to Catch the Wind
