Son Of The Valley:

Through the Valley James F. Humphries, 2008-10-13 The fierce close combat in the remote areas of South Vietnam's northern provinces in 1967-68 the battles of Hiep Duc March 11 Nhi Ha and Hill 406 has been a strangely underreported slice of the Vietnam War Through the Valley brings those battles into sharp focus chronicling the efforts of the proud units of the Americal Division and the 196th Light Infantry Brigade against a stubborn enemy in long forgotten villages and on torturous hills Colonel Humphries draws on both his own combat experience and the eyewitness reports of fifty former veterans to reconstruct what it was like to fight in Vietnam

Road of 10,000 Pains Otto J. Leirack, 2010-04-01 This is an epic oral history of Vietnam's bloodiest campaign fought for seven months in a series of battles, most of them within four miles of each other along Route 534. Starting in October 1967, orders came down to the 2nd North Vietnamese Army Division commanding them to join with the local Viet Cong and seize the city of Danang in the Tet Offensive. After fighting for seven months in the Que Son Valley, the division was so battered that it failed to carry out its mission with only one platoon making it inside the city limits. This is the true life accounts of what fighting was like in that narrow bloody valley from the veteran's own mouths and how that saved Danang from suffering the same fate as Hue City.

Lithic Technological Organization and Paleoenvironmental Change Erick Robinson, Frédéric Sellet, 2017-11-06 The objective of this edited volume is to bring together a diverse set of analyses to document how small scale societies responded to paleoenvironmental change based on the evidence of their lithic technologies.
