Dodd, 2023-09-21 In this book Elizabeth S Dodd traces the contours of a lyric theology through the lens of English lyric tradition She addresses the dominance of narrative and drama in contemporary theological aesthetics by drawing on recent developments in lyric theory Informed by the work of critics such as Jonathan Culler Dodd explores the significance of lyric for theological discourse Lyric is presented here as a short musical expressive and personal form that is also fragmentary embodied socially located and performative The main chapters address key moments in English lyric tradition This selective approach aims to expand the theological gaze beyond the monochromatic features of the traditional canon It covers Anglo Saxon hymns medieval lullaby carols early modern sonnets and the prophetic poetry of Romanticism but also Grime and hip hop performance poetry social media poetry and Geoffrey Hill A Short Media History of English Literature Ingo Berensmeyer, 2022-08-01 This book explores the history of literature as a history of changing media and modes of communication from manuscript to print from the codex to the computer and from paper to digital platforms It argues that literature has evolved and continues to evolve in sync with material forms and formats that engage our senses in multiple ways Because literary experiences are embedded in and enabled by media the book focuses on literature as a changing combination of material and immaterial features The principal agents of this history are no longer genres authors and texts but configurations of media and technologies In telling the story of these combinations from prehistory to the present Ingo Berensmeyer distinguishes between three successive dominants of media usage that have shaped literary history performance representation and connection Using English literature as a test case for a long view of media history this book combines an unusual bird s eye view across periods with illuminating readings of key texts It will prove an invaluable resource for teaching and for independent study in English or comparative literature and media studies Key

Robinson,2019-06-16 As both composer and critic Peggy Glanville Hicks contributed to the astonishing cultural ferment of the mid twentieth century Her forceful voice as a writer and commentator helped shape professional and public opinion on the state of American composing The seventy musical works she composed ranged from celebrated operas like Nausicaa to intimate jewel like compositions created for friends Her circle included figures like Virgil Thomson Paul Bowles John Cage

Fossil Poetry Chris Jones, 2018-08-09 Fossil Poetry provides the first book length overview of the place of Anglo Saxon in nineteenth century poetry in English It addresses the use and role of Anglo Saxon as a resource by Romantic and Victorian poets in their own compositions as well as the construction and invention of Anglo Saxon in and by nineteenth century poetry Fossil Poetry takes its title from a famous passage on early language in the essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson and uses the metaphor of the fossil to contextualize poetic Anglo Saxonism within the developments that had been taking place in the fields of geology palaeontology and the evolutionary life sciences since James Hutton's apprehension of deep time in his 1788 Theory of the Earth Fossil Poetry argues that two roughly consecutive phases of poetic Anglo Saxonism took place over the course of the nineteenth century firstly a phase of constant roots whereby Anglo Saxon is constructed to resemble and so to legitimize a tradition of English Romanticism conceived as essential and unchanging secondly a phase in which the strangeness of many of the extinct philological forms of early English is acknowledged and becomes concurrent with a desire to recover and recuperate the fossils of Anglo Saxon within contemporary English poetry The volume advances new readings of work by a variety of poets including Walter Scott Henry Longfellow William Wordsworth William Barnes Walt Whitman Ralph Waldo Emerson William Morris Alfred Tennyson and Gerard Hopkins

Pryce Eleanor Nesbitt and Gavin D Costa Together they form The Diviners a group which has been meeting together for a number of years for poetry and theological and literary reflection Each poet offers an illuminating reflection on how they understand the relation between poetry and faith rooting their reflections in their own writing and illustrating discussion with a selection of their own poems The poets open up issues for deeper exploration and reflection including the nature of creativity and the distinction between divine and human creation the creative process as exploration epiphany and revelation the forging of identity through writing ways in which the arts reflect challenge and dialogue with faith and faith can inform and challenge the arts power and voice in poetry and faith and ways in which race gender and culture interact with and shape poetic and theological discourse This book will be of interest to poets and theologians to all who read poetry and are interested in the connections between literature and faith to those seeking inspiration for preaching liturgy and pastoral care and to those committed to the practice and nurturing of a contemplative attitude to life in which profound attention and respect are offered to words and to the creative Word at work
