A Womanist Holistic Soteriology Lahronda Welch Little,2023-04-24 A Womanist Holistic Soteriology Stitching Fabrics with Fine Threads is a construction of womanist holistic soteriology that is inclusive of many voices and perspectives and promotes communal responsibility A soteriology that considers notions of personhood theology spirituality and praxeology is holistic inclusive and grace filled This soteriological study begins with a historical overview of the development of notions of salvation beginning in ancient Egyptian thought and the concept of Ma at balance wholeness and moral ethics Lahronda Welch Little conducts an exploration of the word salvation in different West African languages and reveals more expansive narratives around salvation that do not subjugate human beings but rather encourage agency and celebrate the beingness of God s creation Grounded in womanist and Black feminist discourse and methodology this rendition of womanist holistic soteriology holds notions of grace agency and spirituality by stitching together interviews with theologians scholars and practitioners utilizing the philosophical concepts of binary complementarity and holism and sharing what womanist holistic soteriology as praxis looks like in a communal setting

Karl Barth and Comparative Theology Martha L. Moore-Keish,Christian T. Collins Winn,2019-08-06 Building on recent engagements with Barth in the area of theologies of religion Karl Barth and Comparative Theology inaugurates a new conversation between Barth s theology and comparative theology Each essay brings Barth into conversation with theological claims from other religious traditions for the purpose of modeling deep learning across religious borders from a Barthian perspective For each tradition two Barth influenced theologians offer focused engagements of Barth with the tradition s respective themes and figures and a response from a theologian from that tradition then follows With these surprising and stirringly creative exchanges Karl Barth and Comparative Theology promises to open up new trajectories for comparative theology Contributors Chris Boesel Francis X Clooney Christian T Collins Winn Victor Ezigbo James Farwell Tim Hartman S Mark Heim Paul Knitter Pan chiu Lai Martha L Moore Keish Peter Ochs Marc Pugliese Joshua Ralston Anantanand Rambachan Randi Rashkover Kurt Richardson Mun im Sirry John Sheveland Nimi Wariboko

The Palgrave Handbook of Religion, Peacebuilding, and Development in Africa Susan M. Kilonzo,Ezra Chitando,Joram Tarusarira,2023-10-17 This Handbook explores the ways in which religion among the African people has been applied in situations of conflict and violence to contribute to sustainable peace and development It analyzes how peacebuilding inspired and enabled by religion serves as the foundation for sustainable development in Africa while also acknowledging that religion can also be a tool of destruction and can be used to fuel violence and underdevelopment Contributors to this volume offer theoretical discussions from existing literature as well as experiences of practitioners to deepen the readers understanding on the role of religion and religious institutions in peacebuilding and development in Africa The Handbook provides reflections on possible future developments as well thereby aligning with the goals of SDG 16

Indigenous Studies and Engaged Anthropology Paul Sillitoe, 2016-05-23 Advancing the rising field of engaged or participatory anthropology that is emerging at the same time as increased opposition from Indigenous peoples to research this book offers critical reflections on research approaches to date The engaged approach seeks to change the researcher researched relationship fundamentally to make methods more appropriate and beneficial to communities by involving them as participants in the entire process from choice of research topic onwards The aim is not only to change power relationships but also engage with non academic audiences The advancement of such an egalitarian and inclusive approach to research can provoke strong opposition Some argue that it threatens academic rigour and worry about the undermining of disciplinary authority Others point to the difficulties of establishing an appropriately non ethnocentric moral stance and navigating the complex problems communities face Drawing on the experiences of Indigenous scholars anthropologists and development professionals acquainted with a range of cultures this book furthers our understanding of pressing issues such as interpretation transmission and ownership of Indigenous knowledge and appropriate ways to represent and communicate it All the contributors recognise the plurality of knowledge and incorporate perspectives that derive at least in part from other ways of being in the world

Africanizing the School Curriculum Anthony Afful-Broni, Jophus Anamuah-Mensah, Kolawole Raheem, George J. Sefa Dei, 2020-12-29 Connecting cultures to educational settings is an essential component of critical pedagogy This book addresses many of the key issues and challenges in decolonizing the African school curriculum It highlights important philosophical arguments on the challenges and possibilities of achieving these goals in a meaningful manner Topics covered in the book include operationalizing the key terms of inclusion and curriculum strategies for Africanizing the school curriculum and the implications of local knowledge for schooling reform This book also raises a variety of key questions how do we frame an inclusive anti colonial African future and what is the nature of the work required to collectively arrive at that future what education are learners of today going to receive and how will they apply it to their schooling and work lives how do we re fashion our work as African educators and learners to create more relevant understandings of what it means to be human how do we challenge colonizing and imperializing relations of the academy What are the possibilities and limits of counter visions of education how do we make school curricula inclusive through teaching research and graduate training in questions of Indigeneity and multi centric ways of knowing The book identifies specific areas of an inclusive decolonized curriculum agenda through educational programming and reform It is essential reading to any student or teacher concerned about understanding the many facets of an African school curriculum Perfect for courses such as Principles of Anti Racism Education Anti Colonial Thought

Pedagogical Implications Indigenous Knowledge and Decolonization Pedagogical Implications Modernization Development and Education in African Contexts African Systems of Thought Introduction to African Studies Teaching Africa George J. Sefa Dei, 2009-12-04 One is always struck by the brilliant work of George Sefa Dei but nothing so far has demonstrated his pedagogical leadership as much as the current project With a sense of purpose so pure and so thoroughly intellectual Dei shows why he must be credited with continuing the motivation and action for justice in education He has produced in this powerful volume Teaching Africa the same type of close reasoning that has given him credibility in the anti racist struggle in education Sustaining the case for the democratization of education and the revising of the pedagogical method to include Indigenous knowledge are the twin pillars of his style A key component of this new science of pedagogy is the crusade against any form of hegemonic education where one group of people assumes that they are the masters of everyone else Whether this happens in South Africa Canada United States India Iraq Brazil or China Dei s insights suggest that this hegemony of education in pluralistic and multi ethnic societies is a false construction We live pre eminently in a world of co cultures not cultures and sub cultures and once we understand this difference we will have a better approach to education and equity in the human condition Interrogating Critical Pedagogy Pierre Wilbert Orelus, Rochelle Brock, 2014-11-13 Educators teacher practitioners and social activists have successfully used critical pedagogy as a tool to help marginalized students develop awareness and seek alternative solutions to their poor educational and socioeconomic situations However this theory is often criticized as being mostly dominated by privileged white males bringing issues of race and gender to the forefront This volume provides insight on how critical pedagogy can be helpful to scholars and teachers alike in their analysis of racial gender linguistic and political problems It features a wide range of respected scholars who examine the way and the degree to which critical pedagogy can be used to improve education for students of color women and other marginalized groups Liberating Black Theology Demaine Solomons, Eugene Baron, 2024-02-14 Current debates on decolonisation call for academic disciplines including the practitioners of Black theology to reflect on its content and curriculum This edited volume actively engages in these ongoing dialogues specifically addressing the pertinence of a Black theology of liberation within the postapartheid landscape It not only delves into the historical underpinnings of this theological framework but also endeavours to establish a conceptual framework for assessing its significance within the current discourse on decolonising theological disciplines In addition to shedding light on the historical importance of Black theology the late Vuyani Vellem poses a crucial question What lessons has Black theology yet to learn This inquiry by emerging South African scholars serves as a guide for navigating the path forward in developing this theological perspective Beyond emphasising the historical context the volume aims to contribute to broader discussions about social cohesion in South Africa where conflicting socio political narratives persist This work adds to the theoretical development by grappling with the history of Black theological thought and influences contemporary engagements with theology Its impact spans various levels encompassing the reconsideration of Black theology's influence on race, gender, politics, community development and more. Ultimately, this volume serves as a catalyst for understanding and reshaping the discourse on Black theology, offering valuable insights for navigating the complexities of theological thought in today's diverse and evolving landscape.

Stony the Road We Trod Cain Hope Felder, 2021-11-30. The publication of Stony the Road We Trod thirty years ago marked the emergence of a critical mass of Black biblical scholars as well as a distinct set of hermeneutical concerns. Combining sophisticated exegesis with special sensitivity to issues of race, class, and gender, the authors of this scholarly collection examine the nettling questions of biblical authority, Black and African people in biblical narratives, and the liberating aspects of Scripture. The original volume reshaped and redefined the questions, concerns, and scholarship that determine how the Bible is appropriated by the church, the academy, and the larger society today. To the original eleven essays, this expanded edition adds a new introduction by Brian K. Blount and three new chapters by Kimberly D. Russaw, Shively T. J. Smith, and Jennifer T. Kaalund. Not only does Blount's new introduction assess the impact of the first edition, but the new contributions extend the implications of Cain Hope Felder's vision for the book.

Makeda Randall Robinson, 2011-08-30. Makeda Gee, Florida Harris March, is a proud matriarch, the anchor and emotional bellwether who holds together a hard-working African American family living in 1950s Richmond, Virginia. Lost in shadow is Makeda's grandson, Gray, who begins escaping into the magical world of Makeda's tiny parlor.

Kwame Nkrumah Ebenezer Obiri Addo, 1997. Comprises a study of Ghana's first post-colonial prime minister and president Kwame Nkrumah, 1909-1972, focusing on his use of religion in the development of national integration and modernization among other political goals. The author offers a historical account of religion and politics in Ghana, drawing on social, political, and anthropological theories to evaluate Nkrumah's leadership from several different angles and finally assesses Nkrumah's legacy. Speaking for the Chief Kwesi Yankah, 1995-06-22. Offers readers profound insights and useful information on the power of the word in African societies. Research in African Literatures. I would recommend Speaking for the Chief not only to students of West African culture, by whom it should be greatly welcomed, but also to anyone interested in issues surrounding specific genres of discourse in relation to cultural organization. Journal of American Folklore. Drawing on the interdisciplinary modes of sociolinguistics, political anthropology, and the ethnography of speech, Yankah allows the reader to hear a little-known and even less-studied voice integral to Akan chiefly power. This book deserves the serious attention of Akan and Africanist scholars alike. Choice. An unprecedented opportunity to understand West African oratory from the point of view of a native Akan speaker who is also a gifted linguist and ethnographer, Yankah shows with elegance the connections between verbal strategies and the cultural organization of West African social systems. Alessandro Duranti. This study is clearly important in ethnographic terms. But it equally throws new light on more general aspects of verbal and political processes, will stimulate both specialists and students far beyond the confines of its specific ethnographic setting. American Anthropologist. An immensely valuable book.

which deserves a wide and appreciative readership Journal of African History Worlds of Memory and Wisdom Jean Halpérin, Hans Ucko, 2005 This book reflects a fascinating chapter in a genuinely intercultural dialogue conducted on an equal footing at the highest level of intellectual integrity The texts come out of three Jewish Christian consultations held in Africa all focusing on subjects pointing to a commonality of concerns and purpose Any topic that could hint at suspicion of superiority precedence or domination was carefully avoided and the dialogue was shaped along different lines than those usually followed in similar Jewish Christian consultations held in Europe and America over the past half century In Nairobi discussions were devoted to ancient wisdom in both cultures and its value for contemporary life the understanding of scripture and creation in both cultures In Johannesburg debate centered on family community and tradition as a way to the future and dealt with fundamental questions common to both cultures the encounter with the age of modernity preserving traditional family life sustaining a sense of community maintaining and reinforcing religious heritage and cultural tradition in the face of disintegration and dissipation The third consultation in Yaound looked at memory and experiences of violence and the challenge of peace building The Black World in Literature for Children Joyce White Mills, 1975 The Proverb in the Context of Akan Rhetoric Kwesi Yankah, 2012-02 Attracting renewed attention by a new generation of scholars the book presents a comprehensive ethnography of proverb communication in an African culture and achieves a significant breakthrough in proverb studies The author critically reviews the dynamics of the proverb one verbal genre that embodies the high point of rhetoric in traditional and contemporary Africa and explores in rich details the proverb's creative potential authorship and effectiveness in crisis management Yankah elevates the documentation of the African proverb beyond decontextualized compilations and portrays the proverb as a dynamic communicative strategy in which form meaning and logic are in constant flux The study which focuses on the Akan of Ghana situates the proverb in the heart of real life discourse interactions and monitors its rhetorical efficacy on the basis of indigenous aesthetics The book should be of value to folklorists sociolinguists anthropologists literary scholars and students of African studies and communications
