Spectral Evidence The Photography Of Trauma:

Spectral Evidence Ulrich Baer, 2005 An original analysis of the parallels between the arrested moment in photography and in the traumatized psyche Images of Traumatic Memories Anja Meyer, 2020-12-14 By employing the lens of the most recent critical studies on intermediality the author analyses the interaction between literature and photography in three contemporary hybrid novels Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children by Ransom Riggs 2011 Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close by Jonathan Safran Foer 2005 and The Dark Room by Rachel Seiffert 2001 sharing the narration of traumatic historical events The intermedial dimension realised by the confluence of the two media devices offers new ways to create meaning and to reflect upon the nature of collective and individual trauma by re enacting the distortion and the inaccessibility to the memories of those experiences In this context the reader emerges as an active participant in the process of fiction making as the act of reading becomes a renewed act of witnessing The Generation of Postmemory Marianne Hirsch, 2012 Can we remember other people's memories The Generation of Postmemory argues we can that memories of traumatic events live on to mark the lives of those who were not there to experience them Children of survivors and their contemporaries inherit catastrophic histories not through direct recollection but through haunting postmemories multiply mediated images objects stories behaviors and affects passed down within the family and the culture at large In these new and revised critical readings of the literary and visual legacies of the Holocaust and other related sites of memory Marianne Hirsch builds on her influential concept of postmemory The book's chapters two of which were written collaboratively with the historian Leo Spitzer engage the work of postgeneration artists and writers such as Art Spiegelman W G Sebald Eva Hoffman Tatana Kellner Muriel Hasbun Anne Karpff Lily Brett Lorie Novak David Levinthal Nancy Spero and Susan Meiselas Grappling with the ethics of empathy and identification these artists attempt to forge a creative postmemorial aesthetic that reanimates the past without appropriating it In her analyses of their fractured texts Hirsch locates the roots of the familial and affiliative practices of postmemory in feminism and other movements for social change Using feminist critical strategies to connect past and present words and images and memory and gender she brings the entangled strands of disparate traumatic histories into more intimate contact With more than fifty illustrations her text enables a multifaceted encounter with foundational and cutting edge theories in memory trauma gender and visual culture eliciting a new understanding of history and our place in it Perverse Memory and the Holocaust Jan Borowicz, 2024-01-31 Perverse Memory and the Holocaust presents a new theoretical approach to the study of Polish memory bystanders of the Holocaust Drawing on psychoanalytic theory it examines representations of the Holocaust in order to explore the perverse mechanisms of memory at work in which surface a series of phenomena difficult to remember the pleasure derived from witnessing scenes of violence identification with the German perpetrators of violence the powerful fear of revenge at the hands of Jewish victims and the adoption of the position of genocide victims Moving away from the focus of previous psychoanalytic studies of memory on questions of mourning melancholy repressed memory and loss this volume considers the transformation of the collective identity of those who remained in the space of past Holocaust events bystanders who partook in the events and benefited from the extermination of the Jews A critique of perverse memory that hampers attempts to work through what is remembered this book will be of interest to scholars across the social sciences working in the fields of Holocaust studies memory studies psychoanalytic studies and cultural studies

The Edges of Trauma Tamás Béneyi, Alexandra Stara, 2014-06-30 A collection of essays by an international group of scholars The Edges of Trauma Explorations in Visual Art and Literature addresses the vast cultural and discursive construction that trauma has become in recent decades Unravelling aspects of representing narrating testifying to trauma and of sharing or conveying traumatic non experience many of the essays offer new perspectives on traditionally central topics of trauma studies including shellshock sexual abuse the Holocaust AIDS and 9 11 or on canonical trauma texts such as Art Spiegelman's Maus W G Sebald's Austerlitz and Virginia Woolf's autobiographical writings Some authors take issue with the at least partly commercially motivated canonisation of trauma fiction and with the automatic linking of certain textual features with traumatic experiences In other essays trauma works as an interpretative device that allows us to see otherwise familiar texts like Paul Scott's Raj Quartet and the fiction of Beckett and Agota Kristof in a new light Other contributors interrogate less obvious cultural and artistic representations including First World War British painting Jean Richard Bloch's wartime writings Félix González Torres's candy spills the photography of Peter Piller and Ori Gersht and recent American television comedy in the context of trauma while one author explores her own artistic practice as part of the working through of traumatic experiences The Edges of Trauma differs from other volumes concerned with trauma and art in that it gathers together essays on both literature and visual art These essays are concerned with the relationship between trauma and art traumatic non experience and aesthetic experience exploring how the non experience of trauma finds its way into artistic representations

The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 Ghosts spirits and specters have played important roles in narratives throughout history and across nations and cultures A watershed moment for this area of study was the publication of Derrida's Specters of Marx in 1993 marking the inauguration of a spectral turn in cultural criticism Gathering together the most compelling texts of the past twenty years the editors transform the field of spectral studies with this first ever reader employing the ghost as an analytical and methodological tool The Spectralities Reader takes ghosts and haunting on their own terms as wide ranging phenomena that are not conscripted to a single aesthetic genre or style Divided into six thematically discreet sections the reader covers issues of philosophy politics media spatiality subject formation gender race and sexuality and historiography It anthologizes the previously published work of theoretical heavyweights from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds such as Jacques Derrida Gayatri Spivak and Giorgio Agamben alongside work by literary and cultural historians such as Jeffrey Sconce and Roger Luckhurst

American Studies after Postmodernism Theodora Tsimpouki, Konstantinos Blatanis, Angeliki Tseti, 2023-12-22 This book explores the major challenges that the long standing and diversely debated demise of postmodernism signifies for American literature art culture history and politics in the present third decade of the twenty first century Its scope comprises a vigorous discussion of all these diverse fields undertaken by distinguished scholars as well as junior researchers U S Americanists and European Americanists alike Focusing on socio political and cultural developments in the contemporary U S their contributions highlight the interconnectedness of the geopolitical economic environmental and technological crises that define the historical present on global scale Chapter 16 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com

War on the Human Konstantinos Blatanis, Theodora Tsimpouki, 2017-05-11 The essays in this collection explore the question of the human both as a contested concept and as it relates to and functions within the wider global conjuncture The authors explore the theoretical underpinnings of the term human inviting the reader to reflect upon the contemporary human condition to identify opportunities and threats in the changes ahead and to determine what aspects of our species we should abandon or strive to maintain The volume approaches these ideas from a myriad of perspectives but the authors are united in their abstention from rejecting humanism outright or indeed fully endorsing posthumanism's teleological narrative of accelerated progress and perfectability Instead the authors argue that the term human itself is better understood as a concept perpetually undergoing revision and is necessarily subject to scrutiny The contributors here are thus concerned with investigating the following questions What does it mean to be human or to have a self What is the current place or status of the human in the contemporary world As technology is increasingly used to modify our bodies and minds to what extent should we alter and how can we improve our very understanding of human nature The authors contend that literature is the art form best placed to answer these questions In its dynamism and discursiveness literature has the capacity to both reflect dominant discourses and ideologies as well as to generate and even anticipate social change to critique and refine conventional ideas and existing cultural modes and to envision new possibilities for the future The human and its literary representation in other words are inherently intertwined

Constructing the Memory of War in Visual Culture since 1914 Ann Murray, 2018-01-03 This collection provides a transnational interdisciplinary perspective on artistic responses to war from 1914 to the present analysing a broad selection of the rich complex body of work which has emerged in response to conflicts since the Great War Many of the creators examined here embody the human experience of war first hand witnesses who developed a unique visual language in direct response to their role as victim soldier refugee resister prisoner and embedded or official artist Contributors address specific issues relating to propaganda wartime femininity and masculinity women as war artists trauma the role of art in soldiery memory art as resistance identity and the memorialisation of war

In Visible Presence Oksana Sarkisova, Olga Shevchenko, 2023-10-03 An absorbing exploration of Soviet era family photographs that demonstrates the singular power of the photographic image to command attention resist closure and complicate the meaning of the past A faded image of a family gathered at a festively served dinner table raising their glasses in unison A group of small children sitting in orderly rows with stuffed toys at their feet and a portrait of Lenin looming over their heads A pensive older woman against a snowy landscape her gaze directed lovingly at a tombstone These are a few of the evocative images in In Visible Presence by Oksana Sarkisova and Olga Shevchenko an exquisitely researched book that brings together photographs from Soviet era family photo archives and investigates their afterlives in Russia In Visible Presence explores the photographic images singular power to capture a fleeting moment by approaching them as points of contestation and possibility Drawing on over a decade of fieldwork and interviews as well as internet ethnography media analysis and case studies In Visible Presence offers a rich account of the role of family photography in creating communities of affect enabling nostalgic longings and processing memories of suffering violence and hardship Together these photos evoke youthful aspirations dashed hopes and moral compromises as well as the long legacy of silence that was passed down from grandparents to parents to children With more than 250 black and white photos In Visible Presence is an astonishing journey into domestic photography family memory and the ongoing debate over the meaning of the Soviet past that is as timely and powerful today as it has ever been
