The National Question:

Fatherland Or Mother Earth? Michael Löwy, Michael Lowy, 1998 Examining how writings on national issues by Marx Engels could form the basis of an international dialectic this text shows that by doing justice to national identities linking new forms of social movement new internationalism can be created The National Question James Morris Blaut, 1987

Nationalist Politics and Everyday Ethnicity in a Transylvanian Town Rogers Brubaker, Margit Feischmidt, Jon Fox, Liana Grancea, 2018-06-05 Situated on the geographic margins of two nations yet imagined as central to each Transylvania has long been a site of nationalist struggles Since the fall of communism these struggles have been particularly intense in Cluj Transylvania s cultural and political center Yet heated nationalist rhetoric has evoked only muted popular response The citizens of Cluj the Romanian speaking majority and the Hungarian speaking minority have been largely indifferent to the nationalist claims made in their names Based on seven years of field research this book examines not only the sharply polarized fields of nationalist politics in Cluj Transylvania and the wider region but also the more fluid terrain on which ethnicity and nationhood are experienced enacted and understood in everyday life In doing so the book addresses fundamental questions about ethnicity where it is when it matters and how it works Bridging conventional divisions of academic labor Rogers Brubaker and his collaborators employ perspectives seldom found together historical and ethnographic institutional and interactional political and experiential Further developing the argument of Brubaker s groundbreaking Ethnicity without Groups the book demonstrates that it is ultimately in and through everyday experience as much as in political contestation or cultural articulation that ethnicity and nationhood are produced and reproduced as basic categories of social and political life Africa's Wellbeing in an Uncertain World Vusi Gumede, 2020-11-09 The world remains uncertain Africa is fragile Many issues remain unresolved and the African and global situation is worsening South Africa has been at the crossroads for long enough There can be no more delays the time has come to address the many critical issues In Africa s Wellbeing in an Uncertain World Vusi Gumede discusses these critical issues about Africa with specific focus on South Africa He has revisited opinion articles and blogs he has been writing since the mid 2000s and taken his ideas and arguments together with his deliberations on the recent changes globally and in Africa and presented them in this thought provoking book While taking into account what others have said about similar issues this is an attempt to get us to talk about these challenges the important issues and fundamental problems with a view to finding solutions The future of the African continent could be bright if all the efforts that are being pursued for the improved wellbeing of Africans succeed But as Vusi Gumede reflects in this book if South Africa is to achieve the society envisaged in the Constitution then all South Africans whatever the colour of their skin have an important role to play Marxism and the National Question Joseph Stalin, 2021-07-11 In this highly referenced volume Stalin defined the nation and laid out the Marxist Leninist position on national liberation The results resounded throughout the colonial world What is a nation A nation is primarily a community a definite community of people This community is not racial nor is it tribal The modern Italian nation was formed from Romans Teutons Etruscans Greeks Arabs and so forth The French nation was formed from Gauls Romans Britons Teutons and so on The same must be said of the British the Germans and others who were formed into nations from people of diverse races and tribes Thus a nation is not a racial or tribal but a historically constituted community of people

Epistemic Freedom in Africa Sabelo Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2018-06-27 Epistemic Freedom in Africa is about the struggle for African people to think theorize interpret the world and write from where they are located unencumbered by Eurocentrism The imperial denial of common humanity to some human beings meant that in turn their knowledges and experiences lost their value their epistemic virtue Now in the twenty first century descendants of enslaved displaced colonized and racialized peoples have entered academies across the world proclaiming loudly that they are human beings their lives matter and they were born into valid and legitimate knowledge systems that are capable of helping humanity to transcend the current epistemic and systemic crises Together they are engaging in diverse struggles for cognitive justice fighting against the epistemic line which haunts the twenty first century The renowned historian and decolonial theorist Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni offers a penetrating and well argued case for centering Africa as a legitimate historical unit of analysis and epistemic site from which to interpret the world whilst simultaneously making an equally strong argument for globalizing knowledge from Africa so as to attain ecologies of knowledges This is a dual process of both deprovincializing Africa and in turn provincializing Europe The book highlights how the mental universe of Africa was invaded and colonized the long standing struggles for an African university and the trajectories of contemporary decolonial movements such as Rhodes Must Fall and Fees Must Fall in South Africa This landmark work underscores the fact that only once the problem of epistemic freedom has been addressed can Africa achieve political cultural economic and other freedoms This groundbreaking new book is accessible to students and scholars across Education History Philosophy Ethics African Studies Development Studies Politics International Relations Sociology Postcolonial Studies and the emerging field of Decolonial Studies The Open Access versions Chapter 1 and Chapter 9 available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9780429492204> have been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
