The Northern Ireland Conflict John McGarry, Brendan O'Leary, 2004-03-18 This book collects some of the major essays past and new of two of the leading authorities on the Northern Ireland conflict It is unified by the theory of consociation one of the most influential theories in the regulation of conflicts The authors are critical exponents of the approach and several chapters explain its attractions over alternative forms of conflict regulation The book explains why Northern Ireland's national divisions have made the achievement of a consociational agreement particularly difficult The issues raised in the book are crucial to a proper understanding of Northern Ireland's past and future which the authors argue is likely to involve some type of consociational democracy whether or not the one agreed to on Good Friday The issues addressed are not particular to Northern Ireland They are relevant to a host of other divided territories including Cyprus Kosovo Macedonia Sri Lanka Nigeria and Afghanistan The book is therefore vital reading not just for Northern Ireland specialists but also for anyone interested in consociation and in the just and durable regulation of national and ethnic conflict

Pursuing Justice and Peace in South Africa Hendrik W. van der Merwe, 2022-10-05 Originally published in 1989 and written by a long time peacemaker who commanded respect from most political camps in South Africa this book advocated constructive intervention in the South African conflict It showed the growing element of pragmatic flexibility in the white leadership and argued that this more rational approach combined with moral reform among the white population promised reasonable prospects for the constructive accommodation of conflict in South Africa In 1984 the author arrange the first meetings between government supporters and the ANC in exile in Lusaka breaking a 24 year deadlock and significantly influencing public opinion in South Africa

South Africa's Destabilisation of Zimbabwe, 1980-89 J. Dzimba,1998-01-01 South Africa s Apartheid regime saw Zimbabwean independence and black majority rule in 1980 as a major threat to its interests security and regional hegemony John Dzimba explains how and why Pretoria sought to destabilise Zimbabwe and other front line states examining the successes and failures of destabilisation against Zimbabwe s economic and political vulnerabilities and attempted responses He shows why P W Botha s crisis ridden regime had to drop the policy in 1989

Conflict Resolution in Africa Francis M. Deng,I. William Zartman,2011-07-01 While dramatic changes are taking place on the international scene and among the major powers Africa continues to suffer from a multitude of violent conflicts The toll of these conflicts is monumental in terms of war damage to productivity scarce resources diverted to armaments and military organizations and the resulting insecurity displacement and destruction At the same time Africans in response to internal demands as well as to international changes have begun to focus their attention and energies on these problems and are trying innovative ways to resolve differences by nonviolent means The outcomes of these attempts have urgent and complex implications for the future of the continent with respect to human rights principles of democracy and economic development In this book African European and U S experts examine these important issues and the prospects for conflict management and resolution in Africa They review the scholarship in resolution in light of international changes now taking place Addressing the undying internal causes of conflict they question whether global events will promote peace or threaten to unleash even more conflict The authors focus their analysis on the issues involved in African conflicts and examine the areas in need of the most dramatic changes They offer specific recommendations for dealing with current problems but caution that unless policymakers confront the security situation in Africa further destruction to national unity and political and economic stability is imminent Case studies and themes for further long term research are recommended

Conflict and Poverty in Africa Ebenezer Durojaye,Gladys Mirugi-Mukundi,John-Mark Iyi,Usang Maria Assim,2025-02-17 The contributors to this book examine the conceptual issues relating to the link between conflict and poverty as well as presenting case studies of countries often regarded as hot spots for conflict in Africa They also explore the roles of regional and sub regional bodies and institutions in addressing the causes of poverty and mitigating the impacts of conflict on vulnerable and marginalized groups Africa is often regarded as the epicentre of conflicts worldwide Virtually every part of the continent is currently engulfed in one form of conflict or another Beyond the loss of life conflicts have brought untold hardship to millions and have derailed social and economic development on the continent Written by African academics this book is divided into three sections the first of which discusses the factors that fuel conflicts and the nature and impacts of conflicts on vulnerable groups The second section comprises case studies of South Sudan Central African Republic Nigeria Ethiopia South Africa Uganda and

Cameroon These countries are representative of the sub regional dynamics of Africa west east central and south reflecting the diversity of the continent The final section examines the role of key institutions and bodies in Africa in mitigating the impact of conflict on the socioeconomic lives of the people in the region Bodies discussed include the African Union Economic Community of West African States Southern African Development Community and the East African Community The book will be an invaluable resource for researchers academics and policymakers working in the areas of law political science human rights peace studies development studies and African studies
