Southeast Asian Textiles:

Textiles of Southeast Asia Robyn Maxwell, 2012-08-07 Textiles provide a visual history of a country's culture and crafting traditions in a way few other things can accomplish. In Textiles of Southeast Asia, Dr Robyn Maxwell provides the definitive work on Southeast Asian textiles. Traditional textiles are one of the most widely collected and important categories of Southeast Asian art. Using an extensive range of locally produced raw materials and an astonishing array of techniques including applique, weaving, batik, and embroidery, the textiles of Southeast Asia are astonishing in their versatility and originality. Textiles are used to fashion everything from everyday clothing to sacred and ceremonial costumes, shrouds, and wrapping cloths, hangings, banners, and ritual regalia, all of which are represented and explained in Textiles of Southeast Asia. This authoritative text focuses on the changing relationship between indigenous Southeast Asian traditions and the outside influences continuing to be brought to the area, which change the nature of the region's textile traditions. This book considers the various ways Southeast Asian textile artisans reacted over the centuries to the steady stream of new and powerful ideas and raw materials arriving from India, China, the Islamic world, and Europe. A detailed and definitive resource, Textiles of Southeast Asia is a welcome addition to the field of textiles.

Textiles of Southeast Asia Robyn J. Maxwell, 1990. Created from an extensive range of locally produced and imported raw materials and designed using an astonishing number of techniques including different types of applique, decorative weaving, tie-dyeing, batik, and embroidery, Southeast Asian textiles are used to fashion an extraordinary variety of objects ranging from everyday clothing to sacred and ceremonial costumes. This authoritative study focuses on the interplay between indigenous Southeast Asian traditions and the external cultural forces that have been a crucial part of the historical development and changing nature of the region's textile traditions. Maxwell considers the various ways Southeast Asian textile artisans reacted to the new ideas and raw materials from outside regions. The social, cultural, and religious dimensions of this art, the factors that condition how people create textiles, the way these are used, and the meaning of motifs and symbols are explored in detail. Including examples of textiles, some in categories that have never before been published, this reference work is a valuable contribution to the field of ethnographic textiles.
