From Logistics Strategy to Macrologistics Jan Havenga, Ilse Witthöft, Anneke de Bod, Zane Simpson, 2020-05-03 Macrologistics is a strategic view of logistics as a production factor on national scales to support a shift towards sustainability The book details logistics evolution from a functional discipline to a value chain optimiser and ultimately an enabler of sustainability including the evolution of metrics to support this shift Macrologistics instrumentation involves striving towards the lowest total cost of ownership for national economies where to improve decision making these costs should ultimately include the societal and ecological costs incurred due to logistics activities From Logistics Strategy to Macrologistics represents macrologistics research outputs for a number of developing economies identifying distinctive macrologistics policy and infrastructure investments themes to address national logistics challenges in developing economies The book culminates in a discussion on the potential future role of logistics to support the shift to a more sustainable society where an acceptance of a degrowth paradigm might be required and even advisable for a more secure fulfilling future Logistics and economics scholars researchers and practitioners should steer their work towards contributing to the development of an ecologically sustainable society where resources and returns are shared widely sustainably and equitably

Strategy and Ethnic Conflict Laure Paquette, 2002-02-28 Ethnic conflict now presents the thorniest problems for military and civilian strategists of all stripes This book presents a new general theory of strategy encompassing studies of the relationship between values interest and strategy as these relate to ethnic conflicts It focuses on the relationship between values and strategy building a theory on the hypothesis that national values influence national strategy Paquette s research reveals that national values influence national strategy through three mechanisms cognition appreciation and evaluation Each mechanism and indeed the whole value focused approach to strategic thinking is described using a network of interrelated statements Paquette develops a methodology specific to the issues of international security and ethnic considerations She tests this theory extensively for internal consistency before applying it to a single historical case French decision making on national strategy between 1955 and 1970 however because of its generality this same theory could easily be applied to other cases As with any theory it is possible to vary successively or simultaneously assumptions or conditions and to derive new predictions This process of deriving variations has the potential to help in the training of strategists both military and civilian
