Identity Andrea Schneiker, 2016-03-09 Increasingly humanitarian NGOs operate in the context of armed conflicts where the security risks are higher than in contexts of natural disaster Working in Afghanistan Somalia Sudan South Sudan Pakistan and Sri Lanka is particularly dangerous for humanitarians This existential threat affects the physical existence of aid workers and the implementation of humanitarian programs and the core beliefs of humanitarians and the underlying principles of humanitarian action For NGOs it is difficult to accept that they are attacked despite their good intentions sometimes even by the very communities they seek to help For these reasons humanitarian NGOs have to change their approaches to security by not only adapting their policies procedures and structures to the changing environment but also reviewing the underlying principles of their work This book contributes to debates by demonstrating how issues of insecurity affect humanitarian NGOs and the humanitarian identity situating the structural changes within the humanitarian NGO community in the context of conflict aid governance and explains how non state actors establish their own governance structures independent from state sponsored solutions and contributes to the emerging literature on the redefinition of the concept of epistemic communities

Strategies of Public Engagement David Gillies, 1997-10-10 Development organizations need to reaffirm the Canadian consensus that international co operation works and persuade the public and politicians that sustainable development is the key to human security and international order The way to achieve this contributors argue is by demonstrating effectiveness and by systematically documenting evaluating and disseminating development successes through reasoned policy dialogue and strategic public engagement Strategies of Public Engagement makes a valuable contribution to the search for new ways to enhance the relevance and value of development organizations in the twenty first century It will be of interest to readers concerned with NGOs Canadian development assistance and north south relations
