Strategy And The Social Sciences Issues In Defense Policy:

Strategy and the Social Sciences Amos Perlmutter, John Gooch, 1980 Strategy And Defense Policy For Small States: Problems And Prospects Bernard F W Loo, 2021-11-08 For students of Strategic Studies in small countries with limited financial human and military resources the available literature on Strategic Studies in particular texts that seek to explain the key concepts and components of Strategic Studies can be very alien in its focus to the strategic conditions and issues that these countries face This book contains a collection of essays that seeks to discuss key concepts in Strategic Studies as well as contemporary challenges in strategy and defence policy from the perspective of small states It is based on the idea derived from the German philosopher of war Carl von Clausewitz that there is a distinction between logic and grammar while the field of Strategic Studies contains a number of key concepts such as geopolitics and geostrategy strategic culture arms dynamics and the phenomenon of military modernization that are universal in logic the grammar that is the specific manifestations of these concepts in the contexts of small states is necessarily different from larger more materially endowed states Related Link s Strategy and the Social Sciences John Gooch, 2005-06-28 This title available in eBook format Click here for more information Visit our eBookstore at www.ebookstore.tandf.co.uk The Bomb and America's Missile Age Christopher Gainor, 2018-10-15 How nuclear weapons helped drive the United States into the missile age The intercontinental ballistic missile ICBM designed to quickly deliver thermonuclear weapons to distant targets was the central weapons system of the Cold War ICBMs also carried the first astronauts and cosmonauts into orbit More than a generation later we are still living with the political technological and scientific effects of the space race while nuclear armed ICBMs remain on alert and in the headlines around the world In The Bomb and America's Missile Age Christopher Gainor explores the US Air Force's USAF decision in March 1954 to build the Atlas America's first ICBM Beginning with the story of the guided missiles that were created before and during World War II Gainor describes how the early Soviet and American rocket programs evolved over the course of the following decade He argues that the USAF was wrongly criticized for unduly delaying the start of its ICBM program endangering national security and causing America embarrassment when a Soviet ICBM successfully put Sputnik into orbit ahead of any American satellite Shedding fresh light on the roots of America's space program and the development of US strategic forces The Bomb and America's Missile Age uses evidence uncovered in the past few decades to set the creation of the Atlas ICBM in its true context not only in the America of the postwar years but also in comparison with the real story of the Soviet missiles that propelled the space race and the Cold War Aimed at readers interested in the history of the Cold War and of space exploration the book makes a major contribution to the history of rocket development and the nuclear age Dilemmas of Nuclear Strategy Roman Kolkowicz, 1987 Nuclear strategy and deterrence in their golden age a nostalgically defined period sometime in the mid 1950s to mid 1960s promised to harness and control the nuclear Moloch hopes were high that the civilian strategists flooding into Washington would succeed in designing a new science of war that would safeguard national security provide a stable international environment and develop a rational decision making process for the management of national interests in a hostile nuclear world Three decades later it is a commonplace that the erstwhile promises and pretensions of the nuclear whiz kids and the wizards of Armageddon have not lived up to expectations U.S. National Military Strategy Options United States. Military Strategy of Middle Powers Håkan Edström,Jacob Westberg,2020-10-15

Military Strategy of Middle Powers explores to what degree twenty first century middle powers adjust their military strategies due to changes in the international order such as the decline in US power The overarching objective of the book is to explain continuity and change in the strategies of a group of middle powers during the twenty first century These strategies are described compared and explained through the lens of Realism In order to find potential explanations for change or continuity within the cases as well as for similarities and differences between the cases the strategies of 11 middle powers are analysed Canada Germany Italy Spain Australia Brazil Indonesia South Africa India Japan and South Korea This group of countries are considered similar in several important aspects primarily regarding relative power capacity When searching for potential explanations for different strategic behaviours among the middle powers their unique regional characteristics are a key focus and consequently the impact of the structure and polarity as well as the patterns of amity and enmity of the regional context are analysed The empirical investigation is focused on security strategies used since the terrorist attacks 9 11 2001 which was one of the first major challenges to US hegemony This book will be of much interest to students of military and strategic studies foreign policy and International Relations in general Defense Reform in Central Europe and the Challenges of NATO Membership Brad A. Gutierrez,2002 Since the end of communism in Central Europe the former Soviet satellite states have sought closer relations with the West An immediate goal was membership in NATO To meet the conditions of membership the former Warsaw Pact members had to make significant reforms within their defense establishments that would meet NATO s interoperability requirements Despite the incentive of potential NATO membership the development and implementation of such reforms has been slow The objective of this study is to answer the research question Why has defense reform proven so elusive in an environment where key actors agree on the desirability necessity and the benefits of its formulation and implementation

Strategy in the Contemporary World John Baylis,James J. Wirtz,Colin S. Gray,2016 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the role of military power in today s world It explores both the enduring and historical issues which have shaped the study of strategy and the contemporary issues that dominate today s headlines Nation-Building Francis Fukuyama,2006-02-15 Bestselling author Francis Fukuyama brings together esteemed academics political analysts and practitioners to reflect on the U S experience with nation building from its historical underpinnings to its modern day consequences The United States has sought on repeated occasions to reconstruct states damaged by conflict from Reconstruction in the South after the Civil War to Japan and Germany after

World War II to the ongoing rebuilding of Iraq Despite this rich experience there has been remarkably little systematic effort to learn lessons on how outside powers can assist in the building of strong and self sufficient states in post conflict situations The contributors dissect mistakes false starts and lessons learned from the cases of Afghanistan and Iraq within the broader context of reconstruction efforts in other parts of the world including Latin America Japan and the Balkans Examining the contrasting models in Afghanistan and Iraq they highlight the Coalition Provisional Authority in Iraq as a cautionary example of inadequate planning The need for post conflict reconstruction will not cease with the end of the Afghanistan and Iraq missions This timely volume offers the critical reflection and evaluation necessary to avoid repeating costly mistakes in the future Contributors Larry Diamond Hoover Institution and Stanford University James Dobbins RAND David Ekbladh American University Mich le A Flournoy Center for Strategic and International Studies Francis Fukuyama Paul H Nitze School of Advanced International Studies Johns Hopkins University Larry P Goodson U S Army War College Johanna Mendelson Forman UN Foundation Minxin Pei Samia Amin and Seth Garz Carnegie Endowment for International Peace S Frederick Starr Central Asia Caucasus Institute at Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies F X Sutton Ford Foundation Emeritus Marvin G Weinbaum University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign Air University Review ,1984-11

Scott,2019-06-21 The purpose of this book is to document from basic Soviet sources the development of Soviet military doctrine and its impact upon the Soviet Armed Forces Soviet military doctrine is defined as the military policy of the Communist Party In one way or another this policy affects the lives of all of us as a possible threat to free institutions and political processes as well as to our economic life and well being Generally we approach Soviet military policy in terms of military balances and weapons comparisons in the number of men under arms the speed of aircraft of the Soviet bloc versus that of NATO aircraft the number of ballistic missiles and their throw weights Studying such balances is of critical importance in defining to some degree existing forces But it is only through a deep and thorough study of the military policy of the Communist Party which translates directly into military doctrine that we can obtain the background that might aid in negotiating with the Soviets on arms control matters or in making decisions that will enable those nations outside of the Soviet bloc to deter future Kremlin military moves The New Nuclear Rules James Lloyd George,1990 The 1980 Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services: Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Navy, Dept. of Defense American Council on Education,1980
