Medieval Bridges of Middle England Marshall G. Hall, 2024-03-15 Throughout history rivers have been a hub for human settlement and have long been a key part of local livelihoods history and culture as well as still playing a present day role in providing services and leisure to people who live around them It is no coincidence that all four of the earliest human civilizations were formed on great rivers the Nile Euphrates Indus and Yellow rivers all saw great human aggregation along them The most ancient and vital architectural structures linked to the use of rivers are bridges There are a wide range of medieval bridge structures some very simple in their construction to amazing triumphs of design and engineering comparable with the great churches of the period They stand today as proof of the great importance of transport networks in the Middle Ages and of the size and sophistication of the medieval economy These bridges were built in some of the most difficult places across broad flood plains deep tidal waters and steep upland valleys and they withstood all but the most catastrophic floods Yet their beauty from simplistic to ornate remains for us to appreciate Medieval Bridges of Middle England has been organized geographically into tours and covers the governmental regions of East of England East Midlands and West Midlands There are 62 bridges included and beautiful full color photographs of each bridge are included A brief history is incorporated with each bridge Additionally information about the construction materials used and unique features are related as well as historically relevant documents and images Directions to each bridge and local attractions are also given There are literally hundreds of bridges in England that meet the criteria for inclusion in this roll of honor for senior bridges They vary vastly in size style and materials Most are stone and a very few are brick We have lost many of our older bridges to the ravages of time and the modern practice of culvertisation and urban development A few of our older bridges remain though and their beauty and pivotal role in our history is starting to be recognized
