in lines franchise products and other forms of merchandise there has been limited study of fans relationship to these items and industries Sartorial Fandom shines a spotlight on the fashion and beauty cultures that undergird fandoms considering the retailers branded products and fan made objects that serve as forms of identity expression This collection is invested in the subcultural and mainstream expression of style and in the spaces where the two intersect Fan culture is in many respects an optimal space to situate a study of style because fandom itself is often situated between the subcultural and the mainstream Collectively the chapters in this anthology explore how various axes of lived identity interact with a growing movement to consider fandom as a lifestyle category ultimately contending that sartorial practices are central to fan expression but also indicative of the primacy of fandom in contemporary taste cultures
