Streifzaage Durch Berlin:

Streifzüge durch Berlin Moritz Fahrner, 2002-01 Zeitschrift des Berliner Vereines Homöopathischer Aerzte , 1905

Final Sale in Berlin Christoph Kreutzmüller, 2015-08-01 Before the Nazis took power Jewish businesspeople in Berlin thrived alongside their non Jewish neighbors But Nazi racism changed that gradually destroying Jewish businesses before murdering the Jews themselves Reconstructing the fate of more than 8 000 companies this book offers the first comprehensive analysis of Jewish economic activity and its obliteration Rather than just examining the steps taken by the persecutors it also tells the stories of Jewish strategies in countering the effects of persecution In doing so this book exposes a fascinating paradox where Berlin serving as the administrative heart of the Third Reich was also the site of a dense network for Jewish self help and assertion

Music at Its Best: The Berlin Philharmonic Annemarie Kleinert, 2009 The Berlin Philharmonic is a synonym for excellent musical enjoyment During the last fifty years it has gone from success to success with its illustrious conductors Herbert von Karajan Claudio Abbado and Sir Simon Rattle Dr Annemarie Kleinert relates the history of this period Knowledgeable and entertainingly she presents the development and the internal organization of the orchestra its collaboration with renowned guest conductors soloists and composers as well as its many voyages This is a factual yet also engaging book that includes personal observations of musicians and conductors along with numerous photographs mostly taken by one of the members of this musical ensemble

Law, Literature and Legal Counterfactuals Alexandra Juster, 2025-11-01 Based on the long established American law and literature movement the interdisciplinary research field of law and literature is also beginning to hesitantly establish itself in Europe The German Collaborative Research Centre SFB 1385 Law and Literature has provided an important impetus for this development The present work builds on the latter and aims to develop a contrastive interdisciplinary research method legal counterfactual that claims to offer a methodological basis for the further development of the young research field of law and literature The particular focus herein is on law in literature An overview of the heterogeneous research approaches in Italy France Belgium and Germany is first provided Thereafter the focus shifts to a theoretical examination of the methodological concepts of interdisciplinarity and counterfactuality on the one hand and the specific approaches to the text namely discourse and hermeneutics on the other Based on these theoretical building blocks the dividing lines between legal and literary studies are drawn in the first step to identify the resulting intersections in the second step the written text as a common working basis on the one hand and hermeneutics and discourse as a means of analysing texts on the other The legal discourse in the texts is methodically extracted and contrasted with the real world legal texts in a juxtaposing manner The aim of this counterfactual contrast is to determine the degree of correspondence between diegetic and real law To consolidate this method of legal counterfactuals five works of contemporary literature are tested and demonstrated in practice La d cision 2022 by Karine Tuil Sworn Virgin 2014 by Elvira Dones Unorthodox 2012 by Deborah Feldman Repenti 2017 by Claude Chossat and A Slap in the Face 2016 by Abbas Khider The selection of works is motivated by an interest in touching on different areas of law that have received little attention in interdisciplinary law and literature research to date such as French anti terror law the customary law of the Albanian Kanun Talmudic law Corsican feudal vendetta law and German asylum law

Urban Lighting, Light Pollution and Society Josiane Meier, Ute Hasenöhrl, Katharina Krause, Merle Pottharst, 2014-10-24 After decades in the shadows urban lighting is re emerging as a matter of public debate Long standing truths are increasingly questioned as a confluence of developments affects lighting itself and the way it is viewed Light has become an integral element of place making and energy saving initiatives alike Rapidly evolving lighting technologies are opening up new possibilities but also posing new challenges to planners and awareness is growing that artificial illumination is not purely benign but can actually constitute a form of pollution As a result public policy frameworks incentives and initiatives are undergoing a phase of innovation and change that will affect how cities are lit for years to come The first comprehensive compilation of current scientific discussions on urban lighting and light pollution from a social science and humanities perspective Urban Lighting Light Pollution and Society contributes to an evolving international debate on an increasingly controversial topic The contributions draw a rich panorama of the manifold discourses connected with artificial illumination in the past and present from early attempts to promote new lighting technologies in the late 19th and early 20th centuries to current debates on restricting its excessive usage in public space and the protection of darkness By bringing together a cross section of current findings and debates on urban lighting and light pollution from a wide variety of disciplines it reflects that artificial lighting is multifaceted in its qualities utilisation and interpretation Including case studies from the United States Europe and the UK Urban Lighting Light Pollution and Society is one of the first to take a serious assessment of light pollution and places and is a valuable resource for planners policy makers and students in related subjects
