Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time Jane E. Pollock, Laura J. Tolone, 2020-12-16 In this second edition of Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time Jane E. Pollock and Laura J. Tolone combine updated research and real world stories to demonstrate how it takes only one teacher to make a difference in student performance. Their approach expands the classic three part curriculum instruction assessment framework by adding one key ingredient: feedback. This Big Four approach offers an easy to follow process that helps teachers build better curriculum documents with Curriculum standards that are clear and well paced and describe what students will learn. Instruction based in research from daily lessons to whole units of study. Assessment that maximizes feedback and requires critical and creative thinking. Feedback that tracks and reports individual student progress by standards. Pollock and Tolone demonstrate how consistent timely feedback from multiple sources can help students monitor their own understanding and help teachers align assignments, quizzes, and tests more explicitly to the standards. The Big Four shifts the focus away from the basics of what makes a good teacher toward what makes good learning happen for every student every day.

Improving Student Learning National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences, Committee on a Feasibility Study for a Strategic Education Research Program, 1999-09-11 The state of America's schools is a major concern of policymakers, educators, and parents, and new programs and ideas are constantly proposed to improve it. Yet few of these programs and ideas are based on strong research about students and teachers about learning and teaching. Even when there is solid knowledge, the task of importing it into more than one million classrooms is daunting. Improving Student Learning responds by proposing an ambitious and extraordinary plan: a strategic education research program that would focus on four key questions: How can advances in research on learning be incorporated into educational practice? How can student motivation to achieve in school be increased? How can schools become organizations capable of continuous improvement? How can the use of research knowledge be increased in schools? This book is the springboard for a year-long discussion among educators, researchers, policy makers, and the potential funders: federal, state, and private of the proposed strategic education research program. The committee offers suggestions for designing, organizing, and managing an effective strategic education research program by building a structure of interrelated networks. The book highlights such issues as how teachers can help students overcome their conceptions about how the world works, the effect of expectations on school performance, and the particular challenges of teaching children from diverse and disadvantaged backgrounds. In the midst of a cacophony of voices about America's schools, this book offers a serious, long-range proposal for meeting the challenges of educating the nation's children.

Improving Student Learning at Scale Keston H. Fulcher, Caroline Prendergast, 2023-07-03 This book is a step by step guide for improving student learning in higher education The authors argue that a fundamental obstacle to improvement is that higher educators administrators and assessment professionals do not know how to improve student learning at scale By this they mean improvement efforts that span an entire program affecting all affiliated students The authors found that faculty and administrators particularly struggle to conceptualize and implement multi section multi course improvement efforts It is unsurprising that ambitious wide reaching improvement efforts like these would pose difficulty in their organization and implementation This is precisely the problem the authors address The book provides practical strategies for learning improvement enabling faculty to collaborate and integrating leadership social dynamics curriculum pedagogy assessment and faculty development In Chapter 2 the authors tell a program level improvement story from the perspective of a faculty member Chapter 3 inverts Chapter 2 Beginning from the re assess stage the authors work their way back to the individual faculty member first pondering whether she can do something to impact students skills They peel back each layer of the process and imagine how learning improvement efforts might be thwarted at each stage Chapters 4 through 9 dig deeper into the learning improvement steps introduced in Chapters 2 and 3 Each chapter provides strategies to help higher educators climb each step successfully Chapter 10 paints a picture of what higher education could look like in 2041 if learning improvement were embraced And finally Chapter 11 describes what you can do to support the movement
