Strengthening The Poor What Have We Learned:

Strengthening the Poor John Prior Lewis, 1988 A veritable treasure trove Newsletter of the International Center for Economic Growth Network Viewing strengthening the poor as encompassing both top down and ground up approaches Lewis sets out an array of lessons about poverty alleviation and the empowerment of the poor that he finds in the experiences of the 1970s and 1980s These are lessons involving poverty aspects of agricultural and rural development human resource development and institution building the interplay of environment and development the effects of the market the roles of local groups and governments financing development at the local level the limitations of project aid as conventionally practiced wholesaling versus retailing roles for aid donors the comparative advantage and limitations of non governmental organizations NGOs antipoverty politics in developing countries and the proper accommodations that adjustment programs need to incorporate A distinguished group of co authors reacts to these propositions on the basis of diverse sectoral country and regional expertise U.S. Development Aid--An Historic First Samuel Hale Butterfield, 2004-08-30 The first comprehensive account of U S development aid policies and implementation operations in Africa Asia and Latin America this work is a unique contribution to world history and to the extensive literature on Third World development Butterfield begins with the remarkable story of why in 1949 President Truman surprised Americans with his unprecedented development aid policy He then describes the major alterations in U S development aid strategy and operations from 1950 to 2000 Drawing upon his long experience both in Washington and in country aid missions Butterfield puts a human face on the story by weaving real world vignettes into his narrative The survey addresses the role of Congress important program foundations established in the 1950s creative initiatives of the 1960s frustrated promises in Vietnam It explores the Third World s unexpected population explosion America s evolving technical assistance work in the core sectors such as agriculture education health and administration and initiatives to reach the rural poor and promote the development role of women It also comments upon linkages between policy dialogue and financial aid to promote market oriented policy reforms Africa s lagging development and the decline of U S development aid in the 1990s The Design and Management of Poverty Reduction Programs and Projects in Anglophone Africa Michael Bamberger, Abdullahi Mohamed Yahie, George Matovu, 1996-01-01 This timely report presents a comprehensive view of the challenges of reconstruction facing the Bosnian authorities during the next three years acknowledges the considerable difficulties in implementing their agenda and points to the actions requiring the most urgent attention in the coming months The report prepared for the second donors conference jointly sponsored by the European Union and the World Bank in April 1996 serves two purposes First it presents a framework for understanding the challenges facing Bosnia in the critical period ahead as it attempts simultaneously to rebuild its economy strengthen economic management and make the transition from a planned to a market economy Second it outlines background information on the new state and entity structures that have emerged since the signing of the Dayton and Paris peace accords The report describes Bosnia's current macroeconomic situation policies and recent economic performance and articulates policy options for structural reforms in the public sector and in the enterprise and banking systems Access to Basic Infrastructure by the Urban Poor Aurelio Menéndez, 1991 This report documents discussions on urban poverty issues in the developing countries of Latin America Africa and Asia related to the urban poor's access to basic infrastructure services Basic infrastructure services are services that allow the urban poor to live under conditions that facilitate their income generating activities so they can maintain a good nutritional level and participate in the normal activities of society Services include housing transportation water sanitation solid waste disposal and energy for cooking and lighting In addition to discussing ways to improve the conditions of the poor in urban areas through the provision of basic infrastructure services the workshop also laid the groundwork for follow up regional senior policy seminars in Latin America Africa and Asia While workshop participants did not attempt to conclude with formal policy recommendations they did develop general areas of consensus The focus of the workshop discussions were on the following concerns financial issues the role of nongovernmental organizations the role of governments and the relationship between nongovernmental organizations and the governments Poverty, Natural Resources, and Public Policy in Central America Sheldon Annis, Suggests specific guidelines for linking responsible environmental management and economic development Includes proposals for international peace parks fostering conservation institutions and modifying nontraditional agricultural exports Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 Environment and the poor development H. Jeffrey Leonard, 1989-01-01 This volume one of the ODC's U S Third World Policy Perspectives series offers useful steps for policymakers concerned with the critical challenges of integrating environment and development concerns Jessica Tuchman Matthews World Resources Institute Six out of every ten of the world's people are being inexorably pushed by agricultural modernization and continuing high population growth rates into ecologically vulnerable environments tropical forests dryland and hilly areas and the fringes of great urban centers Unless development strategies support their capabilities to ensure their own survival the 470 million people living in these vulnerable areas will be forced to meet their short term need to survive at the cost of long term ecological sustainability and the well being of future generations In response to these startling statistics the authors call for new policies and new forms of collaboration among participants at the local national and international levels They offer practical and stimulating recommendations to bring together population planners water engineers health professionals bankers among others to find solutions to both poverty and environmental problems After the Wars Anthony Lake, 1990-01-01 The end of the Cold War is reverberating far beyond its European theatre in the killing fields of Afghanistan Indochina Central America Southern Africa for others it is in sight But beyond peacemaking lie the delicate challenges of peacekeeping 16 million refugees battered people towns a generation of unschooled youth countrysides planted with explosives teeming cities lacking in jobs essential services In this the sixteenth volume in ODC's U S Third World Policy

Perspective series the authors provide valuable timely analysis of the differing problems of polity economy confronting the governments of these devastated countries In short Cyrus R Vance calls it a stimulating provocative book The Ninth Replenishment of the International Development Association (IDA) United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on International Development, Finance, Trade, and Monetary Policy,1990 The Politics of Economic Adjustment Stephan Haggard,Robert R. Kaufman,1992 This is a collection of essays offering comparative analysis of the divergent experiences of developing countries responding to economic crises by adopting macroeconomic stabilization and structural adjustment policies Non-governmental Organizations and Natural Resource Management in Africa T. R. Ramanathan,1992 Sustainable Development and Economic Growth in the Third World United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee. Subcommittee on Technology and National Security,1990 A Half Penny on the Federal Dollar Michael E. O'Hanlon,Carol L. Graham,2010-12-01 Spending on U S foreign affairs which constitutes only about one percent of the federal budget is being sharply reduced Under the President s 1996 budget plan it will decline by just as great a percentage as defense between 1990 and 2002 and by substantially more than defense over the 1980 2002 period No other major category of federal spending will undergo a real cut over either time period The shrinking budget totaling about 19 billion in 1997 will still have to fund the State Department international broadcasting and educational exchanges trade subsidies and investment guarantees for U S business overseas United Nations operations including peacekeeping and all types of foreign assistance In this book O Hanlon and Graham focus primarily on this last component of international spending Specifically they analyze U S official development assistance ODA to poor countries The authors place U S ODA in a broad historical international and economic perspective They then recommend an alternative approach to ODA for the United States as well as other donors They favor continuing to provide humanitarian and grass roots aid to most poor countries but providing ODA to promote macroeconomic growth only to those countries that maintain coherent market oriented economic policy frameworks The authors argue that to provide effective aid as well as to maintain U S leadership in world affairs net resources for ODA and the international account need to increase only modestly Rural Livelihoods Henry Bernstein,Ben Crow,Hazel Johnson,1992 This book is concerned with the question of how people in developing countries survive and how their lives have been affected by the great changes since the Second World War Throughout large parts of the developing world rural livelihoods are in crisis Even in those parts of the third world where there has been growth of food output that growth has rarely been translated into a commensurate expansion of livelihoods Frequently both economic stagnation and economic growth are translated into suffering for those who live in the countryside Many people are aware that there is a crisis of livelihoods in sub Saharan Africa but the understanding of that crisis rarely transcends simple conceptions of food or environmental crisis or the inadequacy of states the ubiquity of crisis is rarely comprehended This book addresses the pressing question of rural poverty It examines the diverse human implications of rural change the various crises of rural livelihoods which arise from change and the survival strategies of individuals and households It describes the great processes of agrarian transformation which have fundamentally altered rural livelihoods in developing countries and identifies some of the dilemmas for public action which arise from agrarian transformation and the crises of rural livelihoods The contributors draw upon a range of disciplinary approaches to the subject including anthropology sociology economics political economy agricultural science and development studies Funding Community Initiatives Silvina Arrossi,Felix Bombarolo,Jorge E Hardoy,Diana Mitlin,Luis Perez Coscio,David Satterthwaite,2014-07-16 Despite four decades of development planning at least one third of the urban population of Africa Asia and Latin America remains poor Over 600 million live in life and health threatening homes and neighbourhoods because of poor housing and inadequate or no piped water sanitation and health care But even as the shortcomings of government and development programmes become more apparent so do the untapped abilities of low income groups and their community organizations to develop their own solutions This book analyses the conditions necessary for successful community initiatives and includes case studies of 18 intermediary institutions most of them Third World NGOs who provide technical legal and financial services to low income households for constructing or improving housing Many also work with community organizations in improving water sanitation drainage health care and other community services Through the analysis of innovative financial systems for income generation house construction and service provision Funding Community Initiatives considers the feasibility of loans for addressing current urban housing problems It also considers how to increase greatly the scale and effectiveness of support going to low income households and community organizations This book will be of interest to students and professionals concerned with urban development in Africa Asia and Latin America especially those concerned with low income shelter and community finance How We Learn and Become Experts Hermundur Sigmundsson,2024-06-24 This book explores how we learn new skills and knowledge The book also focuses on how we become experts Currently there is an understanding that experts and expertise are made and thus deliberate practice and follow up are needed over time to excel over the years This volume will also analyze which factors may be important to be able to train your brain and behavior to develop expertise Passion may be one such factor others may be grit and a growth mindset Political Conditionality Georg Sorensen,2013-11-05 Political conditionality involves the linking of development aid to certain standards of observance of human rights and liberal democracy in recipient countries Although this may seem to be an innocent policy it has the potential to bring about a dramatic change in the basic principles of the international system putting human rights first means putting respect for individuals and rights before respect for the sovereignty of states
