Acta Orientalia, 1995 A History of Geochemistry and Cosmochemistry, from Prehistory to the End of the Classical Period Robert W. Boyle, 2024-05-01 Since Mendeleev outlined the modern periodic table in 1869 many new uses have been found for the 92 naturally occurring elements. This book travels back in time to describe the utilization of materials familiar to gold, copper, iron, and arcane arsenic, boron, red ochre, and their practical history: mining, metallurgy, and crafts, with evidence from archaeology and geology. Together with the technological developments, author Robert Boyle portrays the advances in our understanding of materials science which led to modern geological and environmental sciences. It is a source book valuable to students of history and archaeology, mining and metallurgy, as well as to geologists, mineralogists, and geochemists everywhere. Technology and Urbanism in Late Bronze Age Egypt Anna K. Hodgkinson, 2018 This study examines the distribution of high status materials in addition to archaeological evidence of their production in the settlements known as royal cities during the New Kingdom in ancient Egypt c. 1550-1069 B.C. Publications of the Egyptian Research Account, 1924 Working in the Suburbs Anna K. Hodgkinson, 2025-04-01 A century ago Charles Leonard Woolley directed the first excavations at Amarna site M50, 14-16, identifying it as a workshop for glass and faience. However, the archaeological record and its publication in The City of Akhenaten were somewhat superficial. New excavations conducted by the Amarna Project in 2014 and 2017 yielded extensive evidence of glass, faience, stone, and metalworking, reaffirming the site's role as a workshop. These investigations also illuminated its domestic character, uncovering valuable data on houses and other structural remains. This volume presents a near-complete record of the site, offering a comprehensive archaeological and architectural evaluation alongside in-depth analyses of material culture, including archaeobotany, charcoal, animal bones, ceramics, and other artefacts. The individual chapters reconstruct the chain of operations of various craft production activities. Additionally, the organisation of production and the concept of cross-craft interaction are explored as the site is situated within the broader industrial network of Amarna This volume furthermore provides an in depth examination of the inhabitants roles and daily lives enriching our understanding of this significant site
