Ituraeans and the Roman Near East E. A. Myers, 2010-02-11 The Ituraeans a little known people of late first century BCE Syria Palestine are referred to briefly in a number of early texts notably Pliny Strabo and Josephus and the principality of Ituraea is mentioned in Luke 3 1 There is as yet no consensus among archaeologists as to whether certain artefacts should be attributed to the Ituraeans or not They form a mysterious backdrop to what we know of the area in the time of Jesus which remains obstinately obscure despite the enormous amount of research in recent decades on the historical Jesus and Greco Roman Galilee Through reference to the early texts modern scholarship has contributed to a claim the Ituraeans were an Arab tribal group known mainly for their recurrent brigandage Elaine Myers challenges these presuppositions and suggests a reappraisal of previous interpretations of these texts and the archaeological evidence to present a more balanced portrait of this ancient people Talmuda de-Eretz Israel Steven Fine, Aaron Koller, 2014-07-28 Talmuda de Eretz Israel Archaeology and the Rabbis in Late Antique Palestine brings together an international community of historians literature scholars and archaeologists to explore how the integrated study of rabbinic texts and archaeology increases our understanding of both types of evidence and of the complex culture which they together reflect This volume reflects a growing consensus that rabbinic culture was an embodied culture presenting a series of case studies that demonstrate the value of archaeology for the contextualization of rabbinic literature It steers away from later twentieth century trends particularly in North America that stressed disjunction between archaeology and rabbinic literature and seeks a more holistic approach
