Studies Of History And Tradition In The Four Gospels II:

Gospel Perspectives R. T. France, David Wenham, 1981 The Temporal Mechanics of the Fourth Gospel Douglas Charles Estes, 2008-03-31 Spiritual but broken theological but flawed these are the words critics use to describe the Gospel of John Compared to the Synoptics John's version of the life of Jesus seems scrambled especially in the area of time and chronology But what if John's textual and temporal flaws have more to do with our implicit assumptions about time than a text that is truly flawed This book responds to that question by reinventing narrative temporality in light of modern physics and applying this alternative temporal lens to the Fourth Gospel From the singularity in the epic prologue to the narrative warping of event like objects this work explodes the elemental temporalities simmering below the surface of a spiritual yet superior Gospel text Gospel Perspectives: Studies of history and tradition in the Four Gospels R. T. France, David Wenham, 1980 John, Volume 36 George R. Beasley-Murray, 2018-04-24 The Word Biblical Commentary delivers the best in biblical scholarship from the leading scholars of our day who share a commitment to Scripture as divine revelation This series emphasizes a thorough analysis of textual linguistic structural and theological evidence The result is judicious and balanced insight into the meanings of the text in the framework of biblical theology These widely acclaimed commentaries serve as exceptional resources for the professional theologian and instructor the seminary or university student the working minister and everyone concerned with building theological understanding from a solid base of biblical scholarship Overview of Commentary Organization Introduction covers issues pertaining to the whole book including context date authorship composition interpretive issues purpose and theology Each section of the commentary includes Pericope Bibliography a helpful resource containing the most important works that pertain to each particular pericope Translation the author's own translation of the biblical text reflecting the end result of exegesis and attending to Hebrew and Greek idiomatic usage of words phrases and tenses yet in reasonably good English Notes the author's notes to the translation that address any textual variants grammatical forms syntactical constructions basic meanings of words and problems of translation Form Structure Setting a discussion of redaction genre sources and tradition as they concern the origin of the pericope its canonical form and its relation to the biblical and extra biblical contexts in order to illuminate the structure and character of the pericope Rhetorical or compositional features important to understanding the passage are also introduced here Comment verse by verse interpretation of the text and dialogue with other interpreters engaging with current opinion and scholarly research Explanation brings together all the results of the discussion in previous sections to expose the meaning and intention of the text at several levels 1 within the context of the book itself 2 its meaning in the OT or NT 3 its place in the entire canon 4 theological relevance to broader OT or NT issues General Bibliography occurring at the end of each volume this extensive bibliography contains all sources used anywhere in the commentary Journal of Biblical and Pneumatological Research Paul Elbert, 2010-01-01 Journal of Biblical and Pneumatological Research VOLUME TWO FALL 2010 The Journal of

Biblical and Pneumatological Research JBPR is a new international peer reviewed academic serial dedicated to narratively and rhetorically minded exegesis of biblical and related texts Potential topics include theological and pneumatological interpretation the role of spiritual experience with authorial canonical and contemporary contexts and the contextual activity of Ruach Yahweh Ruach Elohim and various identifications of the Holy Spirit JBPR hopes to stimulate new thematic and narrative critical exploration and discovery in both traditional and under explored areas of research
