Studies in Latin Moods and Tenses Herbert Charles Elmer, 1898 Studies in Latin Moods and Tenses Herbert Charles Elmer, 1898 Studies in Latin Moods and Tenses Herbert Charles Elmer, 1965 Transactions and Proceedings of the American Philological Association American Philological Association, 1898 Bibliographical record of works published by members of the Association in v 28 1897 Studies in Latin Moods and Tenses ..., by Herbert Charles Elmer Herbert Charles Elmer, 1898 Syntax of Early Latin ... Charles Edwin Bennett, 1910 Latin Grammar Herbert Charles Elmer, 1928 The Prominence of Tense, Aspect and Mood D.N.S. Bhat, 1999-03-15 The book puts forth an exciting hypothesis for the typologist Its major claim is that languages can generally be regarded as belonging to a tense prominent aspect prominent or mood prominent language type This grouping can be based upon the relative prominence that languages attach to one or the other of the three verbal categories namely tense aspect and mood by grammaticalizing the chosen category to a greater degree than others and by making it more obligatory more systematic and more pervasive than others The grouping however involves a gradation as is indeed the case with other typological groupings with some languages manifesting the relevant characteristic more strikingly than others There are several characteristics that can be correlated with the relative prominence that languages attach to verbal categories For example tense prominent languages tend to have mostly active but not stative verbs They also tend to keep adjectives as a distinct category or group them with nouns but not with verbs Verbal forms used for foregrounding generally belong to the most prominent verbal category These and other similar correlations make this typological classification worth pursuing The book also contains a descriptive study of the three verbal categories Syntax of Early Latin Charles Edwin Bennett, The book has no illustrations or index It may have numerous typos or missing text However purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original rare book from the publisher s website GeneralBooksClub com You can also preview excerpts of the book there Purchasers are also entitled to a free trial membership in the General Books Club where they can select from more than a million books without charge Original Publisher Boston Allyn and Bacon etc etc Publication date 1910 Subjects Latin language Latin language Preclassical to ca 100 B C Theory and Description in Latin Linguistics M.
