Taking A Line For A Walk:

Take a Line for a Walk Marion Deuchars, 2025-09-23 Inspired by artist Paul Klee's quote 'A drawing is simply a line going for a walk' this artful activity book is packed with playful ways to start a drawing Taking a Line for a Walk Martin Wiener, 1985 Martin Wiener's drawings make one aware at all times of that tension between what a line is doing and what it is describing He plays with this idea constantly but it is especially clear in his series of autographs where the line teases the viewer by its many functions One moment it is a line in its role as a written language next it is a line as line but it is also a portrait of the person whose signature it is Still further it is not a portrait as likeness only but refers to characteristic attributes of the subject An artist whose work is often witty and delightful he sometimes also provokes strong reactions Agitators threw a bomb into a gallery hosting an exhibition of his works in 1984 Taking a Line for a Walk Nina Paim, Corinne Gisel, Emilia Bergmark, 2016 Deriving its title from the Paul Klee's pedagogical sketchbook of the same name

Ways of Walking Jo Lee Vergunst, Tim Ingold, 2016-12-05 Despite its importance to how humans inhabit their environments walking has rarely received the attention of ethnographers Ways of Walking combines discussions of embodiment place and materiality to address this significant and largely ignored technique of the body This book presents studies of walking in a range of regional and cultural contexts exploring the diversity of walking behaviours and the variety of meanings these can embody As an original collection of ethnographic work that is both coherent in design and imaginative in scope this primarily anthropological book includes contributions from geographers sociologists and specialists in education and architecture offering insights into human movement landscape and social life With its interdisciplinary nature and truly international appeal Ways of Walking will be of interest to scholars across a range of social sciences as well as to policy makers on both local and national levels Taking a Line for a Walk Jo Horsburgh, 2008 Artists are always exploring Sometimes they go where no artist has gone before and create work that is new and challenging Join seven artists and groups of artists on their creative journey as they take their art form and give it an inspiring new twist Foundations of Creative Work G. N. Kamau, 1988 Signergy C. Jac Conradie, Ronél Johl, Marthinus Beukes, Olga Fischer, Christina Ljungberg, 2010-05-26 The title of this volume strives to capture the dynamic scope and range of the essays it contains applying insights into the workings of iconicity to texts as far removed from each other in time as the Medieval tale of a bishop fish and the war poems of 20th century Italian Futurist F T Marinetti and as thematically diverse as the Pilgrim's Progress and the poetry of e e cummings Applications reference both language and linguistics as well as literature and literary theory and related fields such as sign language and translation the former approached from the point of view of Japan Sign Language the latter with reference to translations of the Koran and the Sesotho Bible as well as modern German and English Bible translations On the language side the intricate relationships between sound symbolism and etymology and between analogy and grammaticalization are examined in depth On the literary side the iconic effects of techniques such as enjambment and metrical inversion are considered but also the ways in which an understanding of iconicity can open up meanings in complex poetry like that of the Afrikaans poet T T Cloete in this particular instance three poems inspired by figures as diverse as Dante Paul Klee and the pop icon Marilyn Monroe In view of the fact that form is able to mime meaning and meaning itself can be mimed by meaning the theoretical question is asked on the basis of a wide range of examples from literature language music and other sign systems whether meaning can also mime form An introduction to the work of H C T Mller an early scholar in the field of iconicity highlights a regrettably little known South African contribution to the development of iconicity theory

Correspondences Tim Ingold, 2020-10-20 We inhabit a world of more than humans For life to flourish we must listen to the calls this world makes on us and respond with care sensitivity and judgement That is what it means to correspond to join our lives with those of the beings matters and elements with whom and with which we dwell upon the earth In this book anthropologist Tim Ingold corresponds with landscapes and forests oceans and skies monuments and artworks To each he brings the same spontaneity of thought and observation the same intimacy and lightness of touch but also the same affection longing and care that in the days when we used to write letters by hand we would bring to our correspondences with one another The result is a profound yet accessible inquiry into ways of attending to the world around us into the relation between art and life and into the craft of writing itself At a time of environmental crisis when words so often seem to fail us Ingold points to how the practice of correspondence can help restore our kinship with a stricken earth Honoring

How Can I Inspire My Painting Class? Rachel

Shirley, 2011-06-14 Lesson Plan Ideas for Oil Painting in Post Compulsory Education an Essential Guide to Teaching How can I inspire my art class? A question many art teachers may ask themselves at one time or another either because of lack of experience or a mental block. Indeed having comprehensive knowledge of oil painting or being an eminent artist does not necessarily make a good art teacher or one that inspires students to paint. The important matter of how people learn is equally as important and for this reason this book is really in two parts a guide to oil painting and a guide to teaching. This book is designed for the oil painting teacher whether a newbie or one searching for new ideas for lesson plans. With 75 chapters divided into 14 sections everything the oil painting teacher needs to know is covered whether in context of an art institution or teaching privately. A preliminary chapter offers a comprehensive guide to the art materials required for oil painting enabling the teacher to offer students advice on what to buy and how to save money. The next section covers students' needs explaining multi-sensory lesson planning writing the individual learning plan motivating students differentiating the art activities and making provisions for students with special needs. The third section prepares the teacher to teach giving clear information on writing objectives designing a coherent scheme of work conducting assessments and writing briefs. Essential learning theories such as Bloom's Classifications of Thought Ausubel's Subsumption Theory and strategic use of Behaviourism and Cognitivism within the class are also explained. The main body of the book gives ideas for around 60 lesson plans beginning with ideas for preliminary lessons that underpin painting moving on to colour use and oil painting techniques. Ideas for teaching landscape art still life art fresco painting and life painting ensure the art teacher will find lesson plans to fit most modules. Finally the book offers guidance on presenting artwork for assessment. With plenty of colour images and easy to read format this book offers the busy teacher snap ideas for lessons to suit the class and the curriculum. Chris Pallant, 2021-01-01 Animation Critical and Primary Sources is a major multi-volume work of reference that brings together seminal writings on animation studies. Gathering historical and contemporary texts from a wide-ranging number of sources the volumes provide a key resource in understanding and studying the past and future directions of animation studies. The four volumes thematically trace animation studies from its many definitions or a lack thereof to the institutional nature of animation production to establishing greater space within animation discourse for the consideration of broadcast and interactive animation and finally giving greater contextual understanding of the field of animation studies by focusing on Authorship Genre Identity Politics and Spectatorship thus enabling readers to engage more deeply with the ideas discussed in the final volume. Ordering the collection in this way avoids imposing an overly simplistic chronological framework thereby allowing debates that have developed over years and even decades to stand side by side Each volume is separately introduced and the essays structured into coherent sections on specific themes
