the work of therapy such as bearing witness to stories of trauma or having to report suspected child abuse and examine how these experiences affect them personally and some describe the gifts and costs of doing therapy as a life's work. As you share these therapists' experiences you'll notice some themes running throughout including how doing therapy heals the therapist, empathy as a way to access transcendence, the therapist's responses to encountering racism, the particular struggles of a new therapist, the personal toll of working with the dying, the therapist's sexual feelings, how doing therapy changes the therapist over time, the struggles of working with angry or manipulative clients.

Editor Marcia Hill, EdD, a psychotherapist in private practice, elaborates: "It is not easy to examine how deeply and personally both the practice of therapy and individual clients influence therapists as people. This book shows you that therapy is not a one-way process although the therapist is clearly there in service of the client. Yet therapy affects the therapist profoundly and irrevocably. Every client moves us emotionally; we learn something from each person. The business of bearing witness to so many lives transforms us as no other work could. We may write and talk about therapy as if it were all about how to impact the client, but all the time we too are being impacted."

Out of Hiding Barbara Kathleen Welch, 2012-06-19. Have you ever had a blanket of darkness come over you so that you feared surviving? Have you ever felt so helpless and hopeless that tomorrow was a burden to bear, not a day to anticipate? Human suffering is a complex and devastating experience. In Out of Hiding: Grace is Still Enough, Barbara Welch examines the Nazi Holocaust and Childhood Abuse as the benchmarks of ultimate human suffering imposed on a person through the hideous atrocities of others. Out of Hiding takes the reader into the inner workings of the human condition. It also encourages us with the good news that there is hope and it is found in the power of God's Grace as He works through healers. You will be inspired as you see God taking care of the most wounded of those who have been reduced and depersonalized at the hands of others.
