Livermore, Mary Livermore was TEACHER AUTHOR WIFE MOTHER ARMY NURSE SOLDIER'S FRIEND LECTURER AND REFORMER She spent three years teaching on southern plantations before the Civil War and was horrified at what she saw During the war she worked with the Sanitary Commission and visited many hospitals and soldiers Anyone questioning the veracity of Uncle Tom's Cabin need only read Mary Livermore Her remarkable life was one dedicated to the advancement of African Americans and women and she worked with all the prominent feminists of her day For the first time ever this long out of print book is available as an affordable well formatted book for e readers and smartphones Be sure to LOOK INSIDE or download a sample Lights and Shadows of English Life English life, 1855 Life to Those Shadows Noël Burch, 1990-11-21 Noel Burch's new book is a critique of the assumptions underlying classical approaches to film history the assumption that what we call the language of film was a natural organic development that it lay latent from the outset in the basic technology of the camera waiting for the prescient pioneers to bring it into being and the assumption that this language was a universal neutral medium innocent of any social or historical meaning in itself His major thesis is that on the contrary film language has a social and economic history that it evolved in the way it did because of when and where it was constructed in the capitalist and imperialist west between 1892 and 1929 The book examines the chronology of the emergence of what it defines as cinema s Institutional Mode of Representation and the socio historical circumstances in which this took place It examines the principles of visualisation camera placement and movement lighting editing mise en scene that film makers and audiences came to internalize over the first three decades Special emphasis is laid on the allimportant change that occurred in the imaginary placing of the spectator from a position of exteriority to the film image implicit in both film form and viewing conditions during the primitive era pre 1909 to the imaginary centering of the spectator subject completed only with the generalisation of lip synch sound after 1929 It is the contention of this book that this imaginary centering of a sensorily isolated spectator is the keystone of the cinematic illusion of reality still achieved today by the same means as it was sixty years ago HSA

Books and Manuscripts Dallas Auction Catalog #682 Sandra Palomino,2008 Shadows Within 2 Lysandra Vexley, Watched closely by Tom whose motives are unclear Annie must navigate a world where every question leads to a darker answer Shadows cling to her steps and unseen forces expect something extraordinary from her As her old life crumbles she must decide whether to follow the path laid before her or carve her own destiny In the end the truth about who or what she is may be the key to her survival Contemplations of the state of man in this life and in that which is to come.
