Beyond the Great Story Robert F. Berkhofer, 1995 What legitimate form can history take when faced by the severe challenges issued in recent years by literary rhetorical multiculturalist and feminist theories That is the question considered in this pathbreaking book Robert Berkhofer addresses the essential practical concern of contemporary historians

Jacques Derrida and the Challenge of History Sean Gaston, 2018-11-23 This important new book argues that Jacques Derrida's work can be treated as the basis for a distinctive historiography The possibility of seeing Derrida not as a philosopher of language but as a philosopher of history has become more apparent with the recent publication of Derrida's 1964-1965 seminar Heidegger The Question of Being and History We now know that the problem of history was at the heart of Derrida's writing in the mid 1960s prior to the publication of his best known work Of Grammatology 1967 Arguing that Derrida's scholarship in the 1960s and early 1970s on historicism historicity and the problem of history can be treated as the basis for a philosophy of history Sean Gaston focuses on Derrida's work from the mid 1970s to the mid 1990s and his relentless questioning of context memory and narrative as the delineation of a deconstructive historiography The book raises a challenge for historians to think about both deconstruction and historiography arguing that contemporary philosophy can provide a basis for thinking about history in the name of a deconstructive historiography that is not incompatible with rigorous historical scholarship

Reconstructing History Elizabeth Fox-Genovese, Elisabeth Lasch-Quinn, 2019-10-25 In May 1997 a group of distinguished historians announced the formation of the Historical Society an organization that sought to be free of the jargon laden debates and political agendas that have come to characterize the profession Eugene Genovese President of the Society explained the commitment to form a new and genuinely diverse organization The Society extends from left to right and embraces people of every ideological and political tendency The Society promotes frank debate in an atmosphere of civility mutual respect and common courtesy All we require is that participants lay down plausible premises reason logically appeal to evidence and prepare to exchange criticism with those who hold different points of view Our goal to promote an integrated history accessible to the public From those beginnings the Society has grown to include hundreds of members from every level of the profession from Pulitzer prize winning scholars to graduate students across the ideological and political spectrum In this first book from the Historical Society several founding members explore central topics within the field the enduring value of the practice of history the sensitive use of historical records sources and archives the value of common standards and much more An engaging and challenging work that will appeal to scholars students educators and the History and Its Limits Dominick LaCapra, 2011-02-23 Dominick LaCapra's History and Its Limits articulates the relations among intellectual history cultural history and critical theory examining the recent rise of Practice Theory and probing the limitations of prevalent forms of humanism LaCapra focuses on the problem of understanding extreme cases specifically events and experiences involving violence and victimization He asks how historians treat and are simultaneously implicated in the traumatic processes they attempt to represent In addressing these questions he also investigates violence's impact on various types of writing and establishes a distinctive role for critical theory in the face of an insufficiently discriminating aesthetic of the sublime often unreflectively amalgamated with the uncanny In History and Its Limits LaCapra inquires into the related phenomenon of a turn to the postsecular even the messianic or the miraculous in recent theoretical discussions of extreme events by such prominent figures as Giorgio Agamben Eric L Santner and Slavoj Zizek In a related vein he discusses Martin Heidegger's evocative if not enchanting understanding of The Origin of the Work of Art LaCapra subjects to critical scrutiny the sometimes internally divided way in which violence has been valorized in sacrificial regenerative or redemptive terms by a series of important modern intellectuals on both the far right and the far left including Georges Sorel the early Walter Benjamin Georges Bataille Frantz Fanon and Ernst Jünger Violence and victimization are prominent in the relation between the human and the animal LaCapra questions prevalent anthropocentrism evident even in theorists of the posthuman and the long standing quest for a decisive criterion separating or dividing the human from the animal LaCapra regards this attempt to fix the difference as misguided and potentially dangerous because it renders insufficiently problematic the manner in which humans treat other animals and interact with the environment In raising the issue of desirable transformations in modernity History and Its Limits examines the legitimacy of normative limits necessary for life in common and explores the disconcerting role of transgressive initiatives beyond limits including limits blocking the recognition that humans are themselves animals Rethinking the

Borderlands Carl Gutiérrez-Jones, 2023-09-01 Challenging the long cherished notion of legal objectivity in the United States Carl Gutiérrez Jones argues that Chicano history has been consistently shaped by racially biased combative legal interactions Rethinking the Borderlands is an insightful and provocative exploration of the ways Chicano and Chicana artists writers musicians and filmmakers engage this history in order to resist the disenfranchising effects of legal institutions including the prison and the court Gutiérrez Jones examines the process by which Chicanos have become associated with criminality in both our legal institutions and our mainstream popular culture and thereby offers a new way of understanding minority social experience Drawing on gender studies and psychoanalysis as well as critical legal and race studies Gutiérrez Jones s approach to the law and legal discourse reveals the high stakes involved when concepts of social justice are fought out in the home in the workplace and in the streets Challenging the long cherished notion of legal objectivity in the United States Carl Gutiérrez Jones argues that Chicano history has been consistently shaped by racially biased combative legal interactions Rethinking the Borderlands is an insight Remembering the Past in Contemporary African American Fiction Keith

Byerman, 2006-05-18 With close readings of more than twenty novels by writers including Ernest Gaines Toni Morrison Charles Johnson Gloria Naylor and John Edgar Wideman Keith Byerman examines the trend among African American novelists of the late twentieth century to write about black history rather than about their own present Employing cultural criticism and trauma theory Byerman frames these works as survivor narratives that rewrite the grand American narrative of individual achievement and the march of democracy The choice to write historical narratives he says must be understood historically These writers earned widespread recognition for their writing in the 1980s a period of African American commercial success as well as the economic decline of the black working class and an increase in black on black crime Byerman contends that a shared experience of suffering joins African American individuals in a group identity and writing about the past serves as an act of resistance against essentialist ideas of black experience shaping the cultural discourse of the present Byerman demonstrates that these novels disrupt the temptation in American society to engage history only to limit its significance or to crown successful individuals while forgetting the victims Sounding Otherness in Early Modern

Drama and Travel Jennifer Linhart Wood, 2019-04-23 Winner of the Medieval and Renaissance Drama Society s 2021 Bevington Award for Best New Book Sounds are a vital dimension of transcultural encounters in the early modern period Using the concept of the soundwave as a vibratory uncanny and transformative force Jennifer Linhart Wood examines how sounds of foreign otherness are experienced and interpreted in cross cultural interactions around the globe Many of these same sounds are staged in the sonic laboratory of the English theater rattles were shaken at Whitehall Palace and in Brazil bells jingled in an English masque and in the New World the Dallam organ resounded at Topkap Palace in Istanbul and at King s College Cambridge and the drum thundered across India and throughout London theaters This book offers a new way to conceptualize intercultural contact by arguing that sounds of otherness enmesh bodies and objects in assemblages formed by sonic events calibrating foreign otherness with the familiar self on the same frequency of vibration
