Soundtracks Jon Acuff, 2021-04-06. Overthinking isn't a personality trait. It's the sneakiest form of fear. It steals time, creativity, and goals. It's the most expensive, least productive thing companies invest in without even knowing it. And it's an epidemic. In Soundtracks, New York Times bestselling author Jon Acuff offers a proven plan to change overthinking from a super problem into a superpower with three simple steps: retire your broken soundtracks, replace them with new ones, repeat them until they're as automatic as the old ones. If you want to tap into the surprising power of overthinking and give your dreams more time and creativity, learn how to DJ the soundtracks that define you. If you can worry, you can wonder. If you can doubt, you can dominate. If you can spin, you can soar. The International Who's Who in Popular Music 2002 Andy Gregory, 2002. This edited book presents scientific results of the 1st ACIS International Symposium on Emotional Artificial Intelligence Metaverse (EAIM) which was held on August 4-6, 2022, in Danang, Vietnam. The aim of this symposium was to bring together researchers and scientists, businessmen and entrepreneurs, teachers, engineers, computer users, and students to discuss the numerous fields of computer science and to share their experiences and exchange new ideas and information in a meaningful way. All aspects: theory, applications, and tools of emotional artificial intelligence and metaverse, the practical challenges encountered along the way, and the solutions adopted to solve them are all explored here in the results of the articles featured in this book. The symposium organizers selected the best papers from those papers accepted for presentation at the symposium. The papers were chosen based on review scores submitted by members of the program committee and underwent further rigorous rounds of review. From this second round of review, 15 of the symposium's most promising papers are then published in this Springer SCI book and not the symposium proceedings. We impatiently await the important contributions that we know these authors will bring to the field of emotional artificial intelligence and metaverse. The Man in Song John M.

Alexander,2018-04-16 There have been many books written about Johnny Cash but The Man in Song is the first to examine Cash's incredible life through the lens of the songs he wrote and recorded. Music journalist and historian John Alexander has drawn on decades of studying Cash's music and life from his difficult depression-era Arkansas childhood through his death in 2003 to tell a life story through songs familiar and obscure. In discovering why Cash wrote a given song or chose to record it, Alexander introduces readers anew to a man whose primary consideration of any song was the difference music makes in people's lives and not whether the song would become a hit. The hits came of course: Johnny Cash sold more than fifty million albums in forty years and he holds the distinction of being the only performer inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, the Country Music Hall of Fame, the Songwriters Hall of Fame, and the Gospel Music Hall of Fame. The Man in Song connects treasured songs to an incredible life. It explores the intertwined experience and creativity of childhood trauma. It rifles through the discography of a life: Cash's work with the Tennessee Two at Sam Phillips's Sun Studios, the unique concept albums Cash recorded for Columbia Records, the spiritual songs, the albums recorded live at prisons, songs about the love of his life June Carter Cash, songs about murder and death and addiction, songs about ramblers and even silly songs. Appropriate for both serious country and folk music enthusiasts and those just learning about this musical legend, The Man in Song will appeal to a fan base spanning generations. Here is a biography for those who first heard I Walk the Line in 1956, a younger generation who discovered Cash through songs like his cover of Trent Reznor's Hurt and everyone in between. What in the World is Music? Alison E. Arnold, Jonathan C. Kramer,2023-09-13 What in the World is Music, Second Edition, is an undergraduate interactive e-textbook that explores the shared ways people engage with music and how humans organize and experience sound. It adopts a global approach featuring more than 300 streaming videos and 50 streaming audio tracks of music from around the world. Drawing from both musicological and ethnomusicological modes of inquiry, the authors explain the nature and meaning of music as a universal human practice, making no distinction between Western and non-Western repertoires while providing students with strong points of connection to the ways it affects their own lives. The What in the World is Music curriculum is divided into five parts with a fully integrated multimedia program linked directly to the chapters. The Foundations of Music I proposes a working definition of music and considers inquiry-guided approaches to its study. Why do humans have innate musical perception? How does this ability manifest itself in the human voice? A catalog of musical instruments showcases global diversity and human ingenuity. The Foundations of Music II continues the inquiry-guided approach, recognizing the principles by which musical sound is organized while discussing elements such as rhythm, melody, harmony, texture, form, genre, and style. Where did music come from? What is it for? Music and Identity examines how music operates in shaping, negotiating, and expressing human identity and is organized around three broad conceptual frames: the group, hybridity and conflict. Music and the Sacred addresses how music is used in religious practices throughout the world, chanting sacred texts and singing devotional verses inspiring religious experience such as ecstasy and trance and marking and shaping ritual space and time Music and Social Life analyzes the uses of music in storytelling theater and film It delves into the contributions of sound technologies while looking at the many ways music enhances nightlife public ceremonies and festivals
