Handbook of Research on Writing Charles Bazerman, 2009-03-04 The Handbook of Research on Writing ventures to sum up inquiry over the last few decades on what we know about writing and the many ways we know it How do people write How do they learn to write and develop as writers Under what conditions and for what purposes do people write What resources and technologies do we use to write How did our current forms and practices of writing emerge within social history What impacts has writing had on society and the individual What does it mean to be and to learn to be an active participant in contemporary systems of meaning This cornerstone volume advances the field by aggregating the broad ranging interdisciplinary multidimensional strands of writing research and bringing them together into a common intellectual space Endeavoring to synthesize what has been learned about writing in all nations in recent decades it reflects a wide scope of international research activity with attention to writing at all levels of schooling and in all life situations Chapter authors all eminent researchers come from disciplines as diverse as anthropology archeology typography communication studies linguistics journalism sociology rhetoric composition law medicine education history and literacy studies The Handbook s 37 chapters are organized in five sections The History of Writing Writing in Society Writing in Schooling Writing and the Individual Writing as Text This volume in summing up what is known about writing deepens our experience and appreciation of writing in ways that will make teachers better at teaching writing and all of its readers better as individual writers It will be interesting and useful to scholars and researchers of writing to anyone who teaches writing in any context at any level and to all those who are just curious about writing Whose Knowledge Counts in Government Literacy Policies? Kenneth S. Goodman, Robert C. Calfee, Yetta M. Goodman, 2013-10-01

Accountability in the form of standardized test scores is built into many government literacy policies with severe consequences for schools and districts that fail to meet ever increasing performance levels The key question this book addresses is whose knowledge is considered in framing government literacy policies The intent is to raise awareness of the degree to which expertise is being ignored on a worldwide level and pseudo science is becoming the basis for literacy policies and laws The authors all leading researchers from the U S U K Scotland France and Germany have a wide range of views but share in common a deep concern about the lack of respect for knowledge among policy makers Each author comes to the common subject of this volume from the vantage point of his or her major interests ranging from an exposition of what should be the best knowledge utilized in an aspect of literacy education policy to how political decisions are impacting literacy policy to laying out the history of events in their own country Collectively they offer a critical analysis of the condition of literacy education past and present and suggest alternative courses of action for the future Kinship in Ancient Athens S. C. Humphreys, 2018-11-08 The concept of kinship is at the heart of understanding not only the structure and development of a society but also the day to day interactions of its citizens Kinship in Ancient Athens aims to illuminate both of these issues by providing a comprehensive account of the structures and perceptions of kinship in Athenian society covering the archaic and classical periods from Drakon and Solon up to Menander Drawing on decades of research into a wide range of epigraphic literary and archaeological sources and on S C Humphreys expertise in the intersections between ancient history and anthropology it not only puts a wealth of data at readers fingertips but subjects it to rigorous analysis By utilizing an anthropological approach to reconstruct patterns of behaviour it is able to offer us an ethnographic thick description of ancient Athenians interaction with their kin that offers insights into a range of social contexts from family life rituals and economic interactions to legal matters politics warfare and more The work is arranged into two volumes both utilizing the same anthropological approach to ancient sources Volume I explores interactions and conflicts shaped by legal and economic constraints adoption guardianship marriage inheritance property as well as more optional relationships in the field of ritual naming rites de passage funerals and commemoration dedications cultic associations and political relationships both formal Assembly Council and informal hetaireiai Among several important and novel topics discussed are the sociological analysis of names and nicknames the features of kin structure that advantaged or disadvantaged women in legal disputes and the economic relations of dependence and independence between fathers and sons Volume II deals with corporate groups recruited by patrification and explores the role of kinship in these subdivisions of the citizen body tribes and trittyes both pre Kleisthenic and Kleisthenic phratries gen and demes The section on the demes stresses variety rather than common features and provides comprehensive information on location and prosopography in a tribally organized catalogue

Military Strategy Jeremy Black, 2020-04-07 A global account of military strategy which examines the practices rather than the theories of the most significant military figures of the past 400 years Strategy has existed as long as there has been organised conflict In this new account Jeremy Black explores the ever changing relationship between purpose force implementation and effectiveness in military strategy and its dramatic impact on the development of the global power system Taking a total view of strategy Black looks at leading powers notably the United States China Britain and Russia in the wider context of their competition and their domestic and international strengths Ranging from France's ancien régime and Britain's empire building to present day conflicts in the Middle East Black devotes particular attention to the strategic practice and decisions of the Kangxi Emperor Clausewitz Napoleon and Hitler

Metacognition in Literacy Learning Susan E. Israel, Cathy Collins Block, Kathryn L. Bauserman, Kathryn Kinnucan-Welsch, 2006-06-17 An examination of metacognition in literacy learning It provides the theoretical foundation that supports the teaching of metacognition new methods for metacognitive assessment and instruction in literacy contexts at all grade levels and new information on integrating metacognition into professional development programs

Reading Empirical Research Studies John R. Hayes, Richard E. Young, Michele L. Matchett, Maggie McCaffrey, Cynthia Cochran, 2020-10-07 For the most part those who teach writing and administer writing programs do not conduct research on writing Perhaps more significantly they do not often read the research done by others because effective reading of articles on empirical research requires special knowledge and abilities By and large those responsible for maintaining and improving writing instruction cannot without further training access work that could help them carry out their responsibilities more effectively This book is designed as a text in graduate programs that offer instruction in rhetoric and composition Its primary educational purposes are to provide models and critical methods designed to improve the reading of scientific discourse to provide models of effective research designs and projects appropriate to those learning to do empirical research in rhetoric Aiming to cultivate new attitudes toward empirical research this volume encourages an appreciation of the rhetorical tradition that informs the production and critical reading of empirical studies The book should also reinforce a slowly growing realization in English studies that empirical methods are not inherently alien to the humanities rather that methods extend the power of humanist researchers trying to solve the problems of their discipline

Writing and Motivation Suzanne Hidi, Pietro Boscolo, 2006-11-01 The aim of this volume is to bring together contributions from international research on writing and motivation It not only addresses the basic question of how motivation to write can be fostered but also provides analyses of conceptual and theoretical issues at the intersection of the topics of motivation and writing What emerges from the various chapters is that the motivational aspects of writing represent a rich productive and partially still unexplored research field This volume is a step in the direction of a more systematic analysis of the problems as well as an effort to present and compare various models perspectives and methods of motivation and writing It addresses the implications of writing instruction based on the 2 main approaches to writing research cognitive and socio cultural It provides systematic analysis of the various models perspectives and methods of motivation and writing It brings together the international research available in this burgeoning field

Improving Writing Skills Thom Hawkins, Phyllis Brooks, 1981 Creating Small Scale Social Programs Barbara Schram, 1997-10-14 Built around a single case study Creating New Agency Programs clearly illustrates how to effectively plan implement and evaluate a small scale social program Each step in the planning process is introduced and described in a way that allows the reader to vicariously participate in the evolution of the program Useful charts time lines and resource lists are included and can be easily referenced and utilized This book s emphasis on planning is important not only because it is a much used and generally under taught skill but because successful planning is the process that can turn the dreams of a community into concrete reality This book is geared toward designing programs to meet specific social needs and organizing the relevant and human resources to implement them The programs are specific detail and activity oriented but are designed to support long range goals which may be handed down by a parent organization or the community in general The author s strategy of using a case study serves as a creative learning tool that leads readers through each practical step toward successfully creating their own small scale social program Filling the void of literature on designing programs Creating New Agency Programs is ideal for professionals and students in a variety fields social work human services clinical counseling psychology drugs and alcohol psychology nursing and management who are faced with the task of planning designing and evaluating a program
