This interest has been manifested either by developing national procedures to assess students achievements or by participating in international studies of student achievement This book provides introductory information on ways of assessing the learning outcomes of education systems It considers the nature choice and use of indicators and describes numerous approaches to assessing learning outcomes in selected industrial countries the United States and the United Kingdom and developing countries Chile Colombia Mauritius Namibia and Thailand The authors also review systems of comparative international assessment and debate whether developing countries should participate in them The book contains boxes and tables an appendix features a national assessment checklist Strategy for Latin America and the Caribbean, 1996-01-01 Technical papers that assess the current state of mining in parts of Latin America and propose a framework for growth in the mineral sector Specific coverage for four country groups Mexico Venezuela Chile Bolivia Peru and Argentina Ecuador Panama Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 Measuring the Burden of Disease and the Cost-effectiveness of Health Interventions Prabhat Jha, Kent Ranson, José Luis Bobadilla, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 333 Draws on the methodology of QUOTEWorld Development Report 1993 Investing in HealthQUOTE to analyze the burden of disease and the cost effectiveness of health care interventions The analysis presents a framework for the activities of the government of Guinea in prioritizing health care services Riparian Cooperation in International River Basins Syed S. Kirmani, Guy J.-M. Le Moigne, 1997-01-01 This report describes the World Bank's successful interventions in three international river basins the Indus the Mekong and the Aral Sea to foster riparian cooperation and agreements It discusses the key features of the Bank's role and the following strategies intervening solely to promote development and peace timing interventions when issues were serious when riparians were not able to address them on their own and when they needed and wanted Bank assistance initiating dialogue with riparian countries at the highest levels to inspire confidence playing a proactive role in exploring pragmatic solutions acceptable to all parties rather than pursuing ideal but unworkable solutions using quiet diplomacy in negotiating sensitive issues making the required long term staff and budgetary commitment despite final outcome uncertainty mobilizing donor countries support and analyzing risks and taking appropriate measures to minimize them The paper concludes that the Bank can succeed in other international river basin conflicts if it follows these same strategies Publisher's description Technologies for Rainfed Agriculture in Mediterranean Climates Peter Oram, C. de Haan, 1995-01-01 This report describes the results of a survey of 1 000 multinational corporations undertaken in 1992 which asked about the importance of environmental issues in investment decisions. The survey shows that most large corporations look systematically at environmental questions when they decide where to invest Environmental problems appear to have discouraged a number of investments across different industries and the question of liability for past pollution problems at industrial sites was the greatest concern for investors

Urban Air Quality Management Strategy in Asia Jitendra J. Shah, Tanvi Nagpal, 1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 381 Swelling urban populations and increased concentration of industry and automotive traffic in Asia s cities has resulted in severe air pollution The goal of the Urban Air Quality Management Strategy is to assist in designing and implementing policies and monitoring and managing tools to improve air quality in the major Asian metropolitan areas This report focuses on the development of an air quality management system for Greater Mumbai Bombay India Measures to reduce air pollution in this area focus on a traffic and action plan for air pollution abatement that takes into account the economic costs and benefits of abatement measures The Pharmaceutical Industry in India and Hungary Shekhar Chaudhuri, Katalin György, 1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 376 Roads are agents of change and can be responsible for both benefits and damage to the existing balance between people and their environment This handbook examines specific road projects ranging from minor rehabilitation and maintenance activities on existing roads to major works on new alignments It provides a description of practical methods for designing and executing effective environmental assessments that are useful to those who are involved in various aspects of road projects from planning to construction to maintenance Integrating Science & Technology into Development Policies An International Perspective OECD, Department of Science and Technology, 2007-05-23 This publication provides the proceedings of an international workshop held in South Africa intended to address how international co operation in science and technology can further the three inter related aspects economic social and environmental of the development process Agricultural Extension and Research Dennis Purcell, Jock R. Anderson, 1997-01-01 Environmentally Sustainable Development Studies and Monograph Series No 17 A 1995 publication from the World Bank Monitoring Environmental Progress A Report on Work in Progress generated great interest in the use of indicators to measure the pace and direction of change in environmentally sustainable development In particular the attempts to define what it means to be wealthy or poor by recognizing that a countrys wealth is the combination of various forms of capital produced natural and human resources led to new thinking on what constitutes wealth and how it might be measured The current document Expanding the Measure of Wealth Indicators of Environmentally Sustainable Development extends the earlier analysis by highlighting portfolio indicators for tracking a countrys progress toward sustainable development These include new estimates of national wealth and genuine savings a detailed analysis of changes in subsidies that have environmental consequences and progress on the conceptual foundations of social capital The new estimates reinforce the importance of the natural resource base of all economies as well as the fundamental role of human resources including both human capital and the more difficult to define concept of social capital Satisfying Urban Thirst R. Maria Saleth, Ariel Dinar, 1997 Vietnam's educational record is impressive 91 percent of children between the ages of 5 and 10 are enrolled in school and 88 percent of the countrys working age population is literate However emerging market forces within Vietnam as well as examples and competition from its economically vibrant neighbors raise important new challenges for the countrys education and training E T system The government of Vietnam has set ambitious targets for increasing enrollments in E T institutions but one question remains unanswered What policies are required to ensure that an expanded E T system will give its graduates the knowledge skills and attitudes demanded by private sector employers and critical to the smooth functioning of a leaner public sector in the future NULL This study attempts to answer the question and thereby assist education policymakers in Vietnam in making equitable and efficient choices. The report is divided into six chapters The first two chapters set the general context for a consideration of E T costs and financing in Vietnam and explain how the system is presently organized and managed The third and fourth chapters assess the current financing system including the state budget and other sources of public funding and calculate the cost per student year and the cost per graduate at each level Chapter 5 examines the social rates of return and the cost burdens for different groups within the country The final chapter looks ahead to the next decade and draws lessons from other countries Catching Up to Leadership Sakura Kojima, Yoshitaka Okada, 1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 376 Though Vietnam has made impressive progress in providing widespread access to basic social services the quantity and quality of the countrys social service provision have shown signs of deterioration within the last two decades This paper examines the changing role of the public sector in financing and providing social services and safety nets in Vietnam and assesses the countrys efficiency in targeting public resources to the poor in the wake of the important economic policy reforms initiated in 1989 The author analyzes the sources and uses of funds for education health and social transfers and highlights the emerging importance of public sector pricing policy and private out of pocket expenditures in social sector financing A Planner's Guide for Selecting Clean-coal Technologies for Power Plants Karin Oskarsson, 1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 373 This discussion paper constructs a consistent nationwide poverty profile of Cambodia to support the governments effort to strengthen the design of poverty reduction policies Basic data are given on the level and distribution of living standards as measured by per capita household consumption expenditures The authors use the Socioeconomic Survey of Cambodia SESC of 1993 94 to estimate poverty measures and make poverty comparisons for Cambodia Technology Institutions and Policies Melvin Goldman, 1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 383 This paper summarizes the findings of a multisector study designed to examine the efficacy and importance of various technology policies technology support institutions incentive measures and other sources of technological know how It examines how various firms in different sectors and countries improve their technology to increase productivity and product quality and develop new products and processes Economies studied in this report included Canada China Hungary India Japan Republic of Korea Mexico and Taiwan China
