Strengthening U.S. Russian Cooperation On Nuclear Nonproliferation:

Strengthening U.S.-Russian Cooperation on Nuclear Nonproliferation Russian Academy of Sciences, Russian Committee on Strengthening U.S. and Russian Cooperative Nuclear Nonproliferation, National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Development, Security, and Cooperation, U.S. Committee on Strengthening U.S. and Russian Cooperative Nuclear Nonproliferation, 2005-10-07 Strengthening U.S. Russian Cooperation on Nuclear Nonproliferation Recommendations for Action offers the consensus findings and recommendations of a joint committee established by the U.S. National Academies and the Russian Academy of Sciences to identify methods of improving the ongoing cooperation between the two nations in this area. The report finds that the best way to realize the enormous potential of the U.S. Russian relationship on nuclear nonproliferation is to reinvigorate the relationship between the two governments as a true partnership. It recommends that the U.S. and Russia establish a Joint High Level Commission of government and non government experts to assess their cooperation and devise a strategic plan for moving forward. It suggests that the Senior Interagency Group that was recently established by the two presidents be empowered to carry out this strategic plan. The report then examines three issue areas making specific recommendations in each: law and taxation, program organization and management, and scientific and technical cooperation.

Overcoming Impediments to U.S.-Russian Cooperation on Nuclear Nonproliferation National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Development, Security, and Cooperation, Russian Academy of Sciences Committee on U.S.-Russian Cooperation on Nuclear Nonproliferation, U.S. National Academies Committee on U.S.-Russian Cooperation on Nuclear Nonproliferation, 2004-05-05 The U.S. National Academies and the Russian Academy of Sciences convened a joint workshop to identify methods of overcoming impediments to cooperation between the United States and Russia on nonproliferation. The workshop emphasized approaches and techniques that have already been shown to work in U.S. Russian programs and that might be applied in other areas. The workshop was intended to facilitate frank discussion between individuals in the United States and Russia who have some responsibility for cooperative nonproliferation programs in the hope of identifying both the impediments to cooperation and potential methods of addressing them. This report summarizes the discussions at the workshop.

Future of the Nuclear Security Environment in 2015 Russian Academy of Sciences, National Academy of Sciences, Policy and Global Affairs, Committee on International Security and Arms Control, Joint Committees on the Future of the Nuclear Security Environment in 2015, 2009-02-02 The U.S. National Academies (NAS) and the Russian Academy of Sciences (RAS) building on a foundation of years of interacademy cooperation conducted a joint project to identify U.S. and Russian views on what the international nuclear security environment will be in 2015, what challenges may arise from that environment, and what options the U.S. and Russia have in partnering to address those challenges. The project's discussions were developed and expanded upon during a two day public workshop held at the International Atomic Energy Agency in November 2007. A key aspect of that partnership may be cooperation in third countries where both the U S and Russia can draw on their experiences over the last decade of non proliferation cooperation More broadly the following issues analyzed over the course of this RAS NAS project included safety and security culture materials protection control and accounting MPC A best practices sustainability nuclear forensics public private partnerships and the expansion of nuclear energy Treaties United States.
