Trade and Traders in Muslim Spain Olivia Remie Constable, 1996-07-13 This volume surveys Iberian international trade from the tenth to the fifteenth century with particular emphasis on commerce in the Muslim period and on changes brought by Christian conquest of much of Muslim Spain in the thirteenth century From the tenth to the thirteenth century markets in the Iberian peninsula were closely linked to markets elsewhere in the Islamic world and a strong east west Mediterranean trading network linked Cairo with Cordoba Following routes along the North African coast Muslim and Jewish merchants carried eastern goods to Muslim Spain returning eastwards with Andalusí exports Situated at the edge of the Islamic west Andalusí markets were also emporia for the transfer of commodities between the Islamic world and Christian Europe After the thirteenth century the Iberian peninsula became part of the European economic sphere its commercial realignment aided by the opening of the Straits of Gibraltar to Christian trade and by the contemporary demise of the Muslim trading network in the Mediterranean

The Making of Feudal Agricultures? Miquel Barceló, François Sigaut, 2004-02-01 Was there a discernible set of changes in the techniques of arable farming animal husbandry and their associated technologies at the end of antiquity which marked a clear break with an established ancient world economy and ushered in the new agricultures of the early middle ages Were such changes not already visible in antiquity And what was the impact of political economic social and environmental change in these processes The 6 papers in this volume reject simple evolutionary models charting progress from protohistory to the Roman period to the Dark Ages to the Middle Ages and insisted rather on the notion of inheritance so that the farming economy laid down in protohistoric times continued to exist during the early Middle Ages The collapse of a capitalistic commercial economy of the later Roman Empire though accompanied by political and military crises did not entail a regression of the farming economy The growth in farming in the 8th 9th C resting on a demographic increase combined with intensive land clearance episodes owed much to the preceding centuries the change resides more in an intensification than in the introduction of new features With contributions by Pascal Reigniez Catherine Rommelaere Georges Raepsaet G Comet Aline Durand and Philippe Leveau
