Studies In Chinese Literary Genres:

Studies in Chinese Literary Genres American Council of Learned Societies. Committee on Studies of Chinese Civilization, 1974 Studies in Chinese Literary Genres Cyril Birch, 1974 Chinese Theories of Fiction Ming Dong Gu, 2007-06-01 In this innovative work Ming Dong Gu examines Chinese literature and traditional Chinese criticism to construct a distinctly Chinese theory of fiction and places it within the context of international fiction theory He argues that because Chinese fiction or xiaoshuo was produced in a tradition very different from that of the West it has formed a system of fiction theory that cannot be adequately accounted for by Western fiction theory grounded in mimesis and realism Through an inquiry into the macrocosm of Chinese fiction the art of formative works and theoretical data in fiction commentaries and intellectual thought Gu explores the conceptual and historical conditions of Chinese fiction in relation to European and world fiction In the process Gu critiques and challenges some accepted views of Chinese fiction and provides a theoretical basis for fresh approaches to fiction study in general and Chinese fiction in particular Such masterpieces as the Jin Ping Mei The Plum in the Golden Vase and the Hongloulou The Story of the Stone are discussed at length to advance his notion of fiction and fiction theory Chinese Narrative Poetry Dore Jesse Levy, 1988 Chinese Narrative Poetry brings a new perspective to some of China's best loved and most influential poems including Ts'ai Yen's Poem of Affliction Po Chu yi's Song of Everlasting Sorrow and Wei Chuang's recently discovered Song of the Lady of Ch'in Composed in the shih form during the Late Han Six Dynasties and T'ang periods these poems stand out as masterworks of narrative art Yet paradoxically their narrative qualities have been little recognized or explored in either traditional Chinese or modern Western scholarship The reason for this neglect is that Western literary traditions acknowledge their origins in epic poetry and thus take narrative for granted but the Chinese tradition is fundamentally based on lyric and does not admit of a separate category for narrative poetry Drawing on both classical Chinese critical works and the most recent Western contributions to the theory of narrative Levy shows how narrative elements developed out of the lyrical conventions of shih In doing so she accomplishes a double purpose guiding the modern reader to an understanding of the nature of narrative in Chinese poetry and shedding light on the ways in which Chinese poets adapted the devices of lyric to the needs of a completely different expressive mode Students of Chinese literature will welcome this pathbreaking study but Chinese Narrative Poetry will interest other scholars as well because it addresses questions of crucial importance for literary theory and comparative literature particularly the central issue of the applicability of Western critical concepts to non Western literature and culture A Guide to Chinese Literature Wilt Idema, Lloyd Haft, 1997 Selected for Choice's list of Outstanding Academic Books for 1997 A comprehensive overview of China's 3 000 years of literary history from its beginnings to the present day After an introductory section discussing the concept of literature and other features of traditional Chinese society crucial to understanding its writings the second part is broken into five major time periods earliest times to 100 c e 100 1000 1000 1875 1875 1915 and 1915 to the present corresponding to changes in book production The development of the major literary genres is traced in each of these periods The reference section in the cloth edition includes an annotated bibliography of more than 120 pages the paper edition has a shorter bibliography and is intended for classroom use

Dangerous Women Victoria Baldwin Cass,1999 Grannies geishas warriors mystics recluses and predators these are the dangerous women of traditional China In a culture that is resoundingly patriarchal these women are a vivid counterpoint Violating state sponsored orthodoxies the granny mocks and mimics the geisha charms with her intellect the warrior rules in icy superiority Using new and freshly interpreted sources the author leads us confidently into this surprising world bolstering her text with color and black and white art of the period

Chinese Creative Writing Studies Rebecca Mo-Ling Leung,2024-10-25 This book charts the development of creative writing bringing it from China to the world As the second volume of Chinese Creative Writing Studies the first of which introduces Chinese creative writing to English speaking readers this book expands on the first in further developing theories and research on creative writing pedagogy in the Chinese context and in Hong Kong particular looking at creative writing within cross media practices and the implications for creative writing in global contexts The volume does so by presenting both local and international voices to expand the horizon of Chinese creative writing development Structured in four parts the book begins with leading Chinese scholars reflections on research and field The second part focuses on the interlinkages between creative writing and pedagogy in Hong Kong The third section discusses poetic thinking and therapeutic writing to highlight their relationship with the personal and community Lastly the book takes a global perspective to examine the pedagogy and practice of creative writing through interviews with leaders in the field It is relevant to researchers teachers and students interested in creative writing particularly Chinese creative writing but also those working in comparative contexts both culturally and in terms of cross media perspectives

Sound Rising from the Paper Paize Keulemans,2020-05-11 Chinese martial arts novels from the late nineteenth century are filled with a host of suggestive sounds Characters cuss and curse in colorful dialect accents vendor calls ring out from bustling marketplaces and martial arts action scenes come to life with the loud clash of swords and the sounds of bodies colliding What is the purpose of these sounds and what is their history In Sound Rising from the Paper Paize Keulemans answers these questions by critically reexamining the relationship between martial arts novels published in the final decades of the nineteenth century and earlier storyteller manuscripts He finds that by incorporating imitating and sometimes inventing storyteller sounds these novels turned the text from a silent object into a lively simulacrum of festival atmosphere thereby transforming the solitary act of reading into the communal sharing of an oral performance By focusing on the role sound played in late nineteenth century martial arts fiction Keulemans offers alternatives to the visual models that have dominated our approach to the study of print culture the commercialization of textual production and the construction of the modern reading subject

The Indiana Companion to Traditional Chinese Literature William H. Nienhauser,1986 A vertitable feast of concise useful reliable and up to date information all prepared by top scholars in the field Nienhauser's now two-volume title stands alone as THE standard reference work for the study of traditional Chinese literature Nothing like it has ever been published Choice The second volume to The Indiana Companion to Traditional Chinese Literature is both a supplement and an update to the original volume Volume II includes over 60 new entries on famous writers works and genres of traditional Chinese literature followed by an extensive bibliographic update 1985-1997 of editions translations and studies primarily in English Chinese Japanese French and German for the 500 entries of Volume I

The Shaping of the Book of Songs Chen Zhi, 2023-05-31 The present work is a study on the formation of the Shih ching The author poses the hypothesis that this collection of poems as the standard music and literature passed down to later generations initially incorporated different cultural heritages through a process which moved from ritualization to secularization as well as standardization to localization In aiming to find the origins of the division of the Shih ching into sections and subsections and their titles as Nan Feng Ya and Sung the author employs an interdisciplinary methodology combining ethno-musicological methods with paleography philology and archaeology He draws on new archaeological data of the past two decades that has shed new light on the Shih ching
