Artisanal Theology Lisa M. Hess, 2009-01-15 Paradox and surprise face those who pursue deeper spiritual practice theological wisdom and even a religious calling into the ministry Unbeknownst to incoming students the pursuit of theological education in established institutions today furthers a faith that is recognizable in delight and compassion even as it may just as easily deform it into a moral duty and autonomous professionalism so divisive in today's religious ecology How may those drawn into ministry formation today receive its deep theological treasures and sustain a vibrant faith with a theologically expressive delight able to companion the suffering of self and others Artisanal Theology explores the paradoxes and surprises that await those walking in the worlds of theological education the local congregation the academy the tradition denomination Part handbook part witness it offers guidance for the path of intentional formation within contemporary institutions of theological education whose riches may be mined in a disciplined spiritual stewardship and grounded in radically covenantal companionship Just like artisanal bread blends the classical methods of bread baking with modern conveniences so an artisanal theology relies upon the personal and communal touch of human relationship amidst the contemporary forms of programmatic theological education An artisanal theology offers an articulate and traditionally rooted faith perspective grounded in covenantal companionships sustained in contexts of church tradition and most importantly practice Ultimately an artisanal theology witnesses beyond the anticipated political divides to the Triune God among us known in a theologically expressive delight able to companion the suffering of self and others Sticky Learning

Holly J. Inglis, 2014-11-01 Despite the introduction of new technologies for classrooms many seminary courses still utilize primarily auditory methods to convey content Course outcomes may include opportunities for learners to demonstrate knowledge and skills gained but may not include opportunities for learners to begin to embed knowledge and skills into their long term memory Educators are engaging with neuroscientists to reshape classroom practices content delivery curriculum design and physical classroom spaces to enhance students learning and memory primarily in elementary and secondary education Why not in seminary education An overview of how learning occurs in our brain what the different types of memory are and how memory is created serves as a framework for suggesting pedagogical tools These brain friendly tools are specifically applied to individual academic disciplines enabling instructors to make concrete modifications in the structure and content of what is taught making learning more sticky Inglis's synopsis of the use of neuroscience in the classroom and suggested action is followed by a collaborative dialogue with Kathy L Dawson and Rodger Y Nishioka Dawson and Nishioka provide practical commentary regarding the successful implementation of Inglis's proposed approach As a

Church in Translation Dan Collison, Shelly Barsuhn, 2010-08-01 Church in Translation shows today's leaders how to reframe and revitalize ten essential practices of our faith to speak more effectively to the people of our time in our current culture. The context of Christianity is ever changing but the durability and relevance of the message of Jesus has been proven over time. Imagine life and the very different practice of Christianity in the days of the Early Church, the Dark Ages, the Industrial Revolution, the Great Depression, and the Digital Age. The relevant, vibrant, and effective church of today will always ask: Where has God placed us? In what time and what cultural context? Cultural changes can seem to diminish the gospel's value as outdated styles and forms create barriers between contemporary people and a timeless God. Dan Collison provides insights into ministry that will help shrink the cultural walls that people must scale to experience Jesus. Jesus Church is a living entity that beautifully fits every context in every century. But it does take work. This fitting in is not pandering or caving in to culture; it is a recognition that we exist not in 1950, 1492, 1060, or 33 A.D. We exist now today at a time and place that God designed. The effective church in any age must be Biblically inspired, Prayer designed, Communally formed, Intellectually informed, Socially aware, Collaboratively led, Artistically Infused, Culturally Engaged, Missionally Minded, Grace filled. The question is: how will you translate these essentials into your ministry context? Church & Stage Dean J. Seal, 2005-07-25

Church and Stage is a guide for people in churches who want to employ theater in ministry and for theater people who want to create opportunities to work in churches. The points of contact between religion and theater are numerous, and Dean J. Seal offers guidelines for making the connection work no matter what level of experience or financial commitment a congregation brings to the task. The author, who has worked in the worlds of both church and stage, provides background on the historical and theological relationship between religion and theater. He then offers practical advice and guidelines for the use of theater in the context of ministry, from discussion groups to bibliodrama to play going to ultimately producing a show. This book is a resource for ministers, lay leaders, youth groups, and members of the theater community who desire greater integration of faith and work. The New Conspirators Tom Sine, 2009-10-25

If you have faith as small as a mustard seed, Jesus says in the Gospel of Matthew, nothing will be impossible for you. That sounds good, but does it work in a world where seeds are genetically altered by an impatient few and hard to come by for countless others? In a world where the gulf between the very rich and the profoundly poor is constantly growing, can a mustard seed faith make any difference? And can such a little bit of faith be sustained in a world whose future is so uncertain on so many fronts? Tom Sine says yes, and he has the audacity to try to prove it in his latest book. In The New Conspirators, Tom surveys the landscape of creative Christianity where streams of renewal are flowing freely from diverse sources: The emerging church, Contemporary monastic movements, The missional church, The mosaic movement. Individuals and communities of faith are coalescing in and drawing energy from these four streams to retrofit the church as it leads, serves, and gives witness to the kingdom of God in the turbulent times facing us.
