Peggy Webbing and the Story behind Frankenstein Peggy Webbing, Dorian Gieseler Greenbaum, Bruce Graver, 2024-03-21 The 1931 Universal Pictures film adaptation of Frankenstein directed by James Whale and starring Boris Karloff as the now iconic Monster claims in its credits to be Adapted from the play by Peggy Webbing Webbing's play sought to humanize the creature was the first stage adaptation to position Frankenstein and his creation as doppelgangers and offered a feminist perspective on scientific efforts to create life without women ideas that suffuse today's perceptions of Frankenstein's monster The original play script exists in several different versions only two of which have ever been consulted by scholars no version has ever been published Nor have scholars had access to Webbing's private papers and correspondence preserved in a family archive so that the evolution of Frankenstein from book to stage to screen has never been fully charted In Peggy Webbing and the Story behind Frankenstein Dorian Gieseler Greenbaum Webbing's great grandniece and Bruce Graver present the full texts of Webbing's unpublished play for the first time A vital critical edition this book includes the 1927 British Library Frankenstein script used for the first production of the play in Preston Lancashire the 1928 Frankenstein script in the Library of Congress used for productions in UK provincial theatres from autumn 1928 till 1930 the 1930 Frankenstein Prompt Script for the London production and later provincial performances held by the Westminster Archive London Webbing's private correspondence including negotiations with theatre managers and Universal Pictures family letters about the writing and production process and selected contracts Text of the chapter Frankenstein from Webbing's unpublished literary memoir The Story of a Pen for additional context Biography of Webbing that bears directly on the sensibilities and skills she brought to the writing of her play History of how the play came to be written and produced The relationship of Webbing's play to earlier stage and film adaptations An exploration of playwright and screenwriter John L Balderston's changes to Webbing's play and Whale's borrowings from it in the 1931 film Offering a new perspective on the genesis of the Frankenstein movie this critical exploration makes available a unique and necessary missing link in the novel's otherwise well documented transmedia cultural history

Artists, Writers, and Musicians Michel-Andre Bossy, Thomas Brothers, John Craig McEnroe, 2001-10-30 Disney's animated trailblazing Dostoyevsky's philosophical neuroses Hendrix's electric haze Hitchcock's masterful manipulation Frida Kahlo's scarifying portraits Van Gogh's vigorous color and Virginia Woolf's modern feminism this multicultural reference tool examines 200 artists writers and musicians from around the world Detailed biographical essays place them in a broad historical context showing how their luminous achievements influenced and guided contemporary and future generations shaped the internal and external perceptions of their craft and met the sensibilities of their audience The New Port Moresby Ceridwen Spark,2020-07-31

The New Port Moresby Gender Space and Belonging in Urban Papua New Guinea explores the ways in which educated professional women experience living in Port Moresby the burgeoning capital of Papua New Guinea Drawing on postcolonial and feminist scholarship the book adds to an emerging literature on cities in the Global South as sites of oppression but also resistance aspiration and activism Taking an intersectional feminist approach the book draws on a decade of research conducted among the educated professional women of Port Moresby offering unique insight into class transitions and the perspectives of this small but significant cohort The New Port Moresby expands the scope of research and writing about gendered experiences in Port Moresby moving beyond the idea that the city is an exclusively hostile place for women Without discounting the problems of uneven development the author argues that the city's new places offer women a degree of freedom and autonomy in a city predominantly characterized by fear and restriction In doing so it offers an ethnographically rich perspective on the interaction between the global and the local and what this might mean for feminism and the advancement of equity in the Pacific and beyond The New Port Moresby will find an audience among anthropologists particularly those interested in the urban Pacific feminist geographers committed to expanding research to include cities in the Global South and development theorists interested in understanding the roles played by educated elites in less economically developed contexts There have been few ethnographic monographs about Port Moresby and those that do exist have tended to marginalize or ignore gender Yet as feminist geographers make clear women and men are positioned differently in the world and their relationship to the places in which they live is also different The book has no predecessors and stands alone in the Pacific as an account of this kind As such The New Port Moresby should be read by scholars and students of diverse disciplines interested in urbanization gender and the Pacific The Encyclopedia of Television, Cable, and Video R.M.
