Tales Of Three Cities

Boston Public Library

Tales Of Three Cities:

Tales of Three Cities Henry James, 1912 A Tale of Three Cities Edmund Li Sheng, 2024-02-19 The proposed book presents the cutting edge research on the urban development of three cities Shanghai Hong Kong and Singapore By comparing their responses to the COVID 19 pandemic from an international political economic perspective this book examines the commonalities and differences in urban governance in these three widely recognized and well developed Asian cities with outward oriented economies through the lens of world systems theory and related theories of historicism These cities are all generally considered to be under authoritarian regimes but there are substantial differences in their social systems rules of law and justice and administrative structures In the context of globalization the cities are competing on a more even playing field In addition city governments worldwide are increasingly pursuing growth land markets urban regeneration and large scale public projects With the advent of globalization urban development is gradually changing from the past crude model of spatial expansion and land finance to a more refined model of socioeconomic development driven by industrial upgrading and enhanced consumption However cities political and economic contexts and governance systems vary greatly Unsurprisingly given their differences the three cities of Shanghai Hong Kong and Singapore demonstrated varied responses to the COVID 19 pandemic This book discusses the efforts of these governments to address and reduce the spread of COVID 19 as well as how national responses to the pandemic outbreak were influenced by global dynamics geopolitics and each nation s particular historical context

A Tale of Three Cities Barbara Czarniawska-Joerges, 2002 Cities are complex sprawling diverse places They are organized but disorganized managed but unmanaged orderly but disorderly Modern metropolitan cities reproduce themselves and we are familiar with the common icons that are replicated in every part of the globe but how should we understand cities For the past five years Professor Czarniawska has been leading a research project on globalization and the management of cities Rather than seeing the city as a conurbation or a location of economic activity or in terms of governance and administration Czarniawska explores the city as an action net An action net of this sort includes various organizations municipal state private and voluntary and non organized individuals Such an approach was designed to avoid the fallacy of viewing the big city as one big organization The city is thus conceived as a particularly complex and disorderly action net a seamless web of interorganizational networks where the city administration proper constitutes just one point of entry and by no means provides a map of the entire terrain The research focuses on three European capitals Warsaw Stockholm and Rome At the outset leading politicians and officials in each city listed the major problems and projects that the city was engaged in for example environmental reforms improvement of public utilities privatization financial targets etc The author selected a number of these for more detailed study reporting upon interesting similarities and differences between the approaches taken The book aims to explore organizing processes in their local context while following the connections between such contexts
