Talk about Architecture Bernard Lemann, Malcolm Heard, John P. Klingman, 1993      Histories of Architecture Education in the United States Peter L. Laurence, 2023-10-31 Histories of Architecture Education in the United States is an edited collection focused on the professional evolution experimental and enduring pedagogical approaches and leading institutions of American architecture education Beginning with the emergence of architecture as a profession in Philadelphia and ending with the early work but unfinished international effort of making room for women and people of color in positions of leadership in the field this collection offers an important history of architecture education relevant to audiences both within and outside of the United States Other themes include the relationship of professional organizations to educational institutions the legacy of late nineteenth century design concepts the role of architectural history educational changes and trans Atlantic intellectual exchanges after WWII and the Cold War the rise of the city and urban design in the architect s consciousness student protests and challenges to traditional architecture education and the controversial appearance of environmental activism This collection in other words provides a relevant history of the present with topics of concern to all architects studying and working today      William Woodward Robert Hinckley, 2011-07-05 William Woodward 1859 1939 was a force in New Orleans and the art world and his legacy endures In this first compilation of examples of Woodward s work spanning his career essayists offer unique perspectives on the artist and his art Woodward was a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design and the Massachusetts Normal Art School He started the School of Art and organized the Department of Architecture at Tulane University and he taught evening art classes to citizens of New Orleans His oil crayon paintings of the French Quarter were instrumental in preserving the French Quarter buildings from destruction and he was a leader in the Arts and Crafts movement in New Orleans He was a member of the American Institute of Architects Woodward also organized the Art Association of New Orleans and the Decorative Art League for Women which founded the manufacture of art pottery in New Orleans Woodward was a prolific artist and pioneered new techniques with his use of the Rafaelli oil crayon and the fiberloid dry etching process Upon his retirement from Tulane in 1922 Woodward moved to Biloxi Mississippi where his paintings of the Mississippi Gulf Coast provide a historical record of an area now almost entirely changed by development and natural disasters Woodward also traveled extensively and chronicled his travels in his art      Dixie Bohemia John Shelton Reed, 2012-09-17 In the years following World War I the New Orleans French Quarter attracted artists and writers with its low rents faded charm and colorful street life By the 1920s Jackson Square had become the center of a vibrant if short lived bohemia A young William Faulkner and his roommate William Spratling an artist who taught at Tulane University resided among the artful and crafty ones of the French Quarter In Dixie Bohemia John Shelton Reed introduces Faulkner s circle of friends ranging from the distinguished Sherwood Anderson to a gender bending Mardi Gras costume designer and brings to life the people and places of New Orleans in the Jazz Age Reed begins with Faulkner and Spratling s self published homage to their fellow bohemians Sherwood Anderson and Other Famous Creoles The book contained 43 sketches of New Orleans artists by Spratling with captions and a short introduction by Faulkner The title served as a rather obscure joke Sherwood was not a Creole and neither were most of the people featured But with Reed s commentary these profiles serve as an entry into the world of artists and writers that dined on Decatur Street attended masked balls and blatantly ignored the Prohibition Act These men and women also helped to establish New Orleans institutions such as the Double Dealer literary magazine the Arts and Crafts Club and Le Petit Theatre But unlike most bohemia the one in New Orleans existed as a whites only affair Though some of the bohemians were relatively progressive and many employed African American material in their own work few of them knew or cared about what was going on across town among the city s black intellectuals and artists The positive developments from this French Quarter renaissance however attracted attention and visitors inspiring the historic preservation and commercial revitalization that turned the area into a tourist destination Predictably this gentrification drove out many of the working artists and writers who had helped revive the area As Reed points out one resident who identified herself as an artist on the 1920 federal census gave her occupation in 1930 as saleslady real estate reflecting the decline of an active artistic class A charming and insightful glimpse into an era Dixie Bohemia describes the writers artists poseurs and hangers on in the New Orleans art scene of the 1920s and illuminates how this dazzling world faded as quickly as it began The Life and Work of the Twentieth-century Louisiana Architect, A. Hays Town David H. Sachs, 2003 This is the first thorough and substantive examination of architect A Hays Town s work His 70 year career provides an ideal case study in the evolution of 20th century American architecture spanning from a period dominated by Beaux Arts formalism through a period characterized by the assimilation and acceptance of European Modernism to a period once again receptive to traditional and regional influences This examination reveals the remarkable talent and logic which enabled him to assimilate a wide variety of influences from his education and early career as well as influences from the historical examples of his region It contributes both to an understanding of the potential use of vernacular traditions in general and specifically of the rich architectural influences present through Louisiana s long and intriguing history The study also includes a discussion of Town s habits values and relationships providing valuable insights into typical issues involved in the practice of architecture Louisiana Buildings, 1720-1940 Jessie Poesch, Barbara SoRelle Bacot, 1997-08-01 The only New Deal program to continue into the 1990s the Historic American Buildings Survey has through the years drawn attention to the historical and artistic significance of buildings that contemporary taste might otherwise have ignored Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 makes easily available the fruit of HABS s important and enduring efforts to record Louisiana s architectural heritage In the 1930s the Louisiana HABS team concentrated on public edifices and grand plantation complexes threatened by destruction Later records of HABS include still other habitations of the common man as well as industrial structures The project has yielded not only graphic and written documentation of the buildings many no longer standing but also new insights into the history of the state's architecture An invaluable part of Louisiana Buildings 1720-1940 is the alphabetical listing of HABS structures in Louisiana both by familiar name and by parish The listing by parish gives the location the date of construction the architect when known and the current status of each building It also presents drawings or photographs of many of the structures over 300 pictures in all There are besides nine chapters by leading architectural historians who cover all aspects of Louisiana architecture its Creole beginnings in the south of the state the Appalachian folk style in the north and developments on the plantation in the seventeenth century urban setting and in the modern era Those chapters form an essential frame of reference for the data in the HABS listings and call attention to many other structures that are a part of the history of building in the Pelican State Anyone interested in the state's architecture or history will find Louisiana Buildings indispensable The Southern Quarterly, 1994 The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture Judith H. Bonner, Estill Curtis Pennington, Charles Reagan Wilson, 2013-01-14 From the Potomac to the Gulf artists were creating in the South even before it was recognized as a region The South has contributed to America's cultural heritage with works as diverse as Benjamin Henry Latrobe's architectural plans for the nation's Capitol the wares of the Newcomb Pottery and Richard Clague's tonalist Louisiana bayou scenes This comprehensive volume shows how through the decades and centuries the art of the South expanded from mimetic portraiture to sophisticated responses to national and international movements The essays treat historic and current trends in the visual arts and architecture major collections and institutions and biographies of artists themselves As leading experts on the region's artists and their work editors Judith H. Bonner and Estill Curtis Pennington frame the volume's contributions with insightful overview essays on the visual arts and architecture in the American South A Life of Learning Henry A.
