The Living Sea:

A Tale of Two Cities ... Charles Dickens, 1859 Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress, 1968 Sealab Ben Hellwarth, 2012-01-10 Sealab is the underwater Right Stuff the compelling story of how a US Navy program sought to develop the marine equivalent of the space station and forever changed man's relationship to the sea While NASA was trying to put a man on the moon the US Navy launched a series of daring experiments to prove that divers could live and work from a sea floor base When the first underwater habitat called Sealab was tested in the early 1960s conventional dives had strict depth limits and lasted for only minutes not the hours and even days that the visionaries behind Sealab wanted to achieve for purposes of exploration scientific research and to recover submarines and aircraft that had sunk along the continental shelf The unlikely father of Sealab George Bond was a colorful former country doctor who joined the Navy later in life and became obsessed with these unanswered questions How long can a diver stay underwater How deep can a diver go Sealab never received the attention it deserved yet the program inspired explorers like Jacques Cousteau broke age old depth barriers and revolutionized deep sea diving by demonstrating that living on the seabed was not science fiction Today divers on commercial oil rigs and Navy divers engaged in classified missions rely on methods pioneered during Sealab Sealab is a true story of heroism and discovery men unafraid to test the limits of physical endurance to conquer a hostile undersea frontier It is also a story of frustration and a government unwilling to take the same risks underwater that it did in space Ben Hellwarth a veteran journalist interviewed many surviving participants from the three Sealab experiments and conducted extensive documentary research to write the first comprehensive account of one of the most important and least known experiments in US history London Through Russian Eyes, 1896-1914 Anna Vaninskaya, 2022 Translated anthology of London Letters written by Russian foreign correspondents which makes available for the first time in English the Russian perspective on early twentieth century London life This anthology provides a unique window onto Britain's capital city as it existed more than a century ago in the minds of the Russian reading public Russian foreign correspondents produced a substantial body of writing documenting London life in all its infinite variety but their articles published in Russian journals and newspapers have not been accessible to English speakers until today These articles instrumental in forging Russian perceptions of London before the First World War have now acquired a new interest as monuments of a vanished era and as records of the city's history in their own right The selections in this anthology from Isaak Shklovsky Korney Chukovsky Samuil Marshak and Semyon Rapoport give just a taste of the riches that still lie hidden in the pages of old periodicals The anthology is divided into four sections Foreigners in London focusing on the plight of immigrants in the city London Labour and the London Poor documenting the experiences of working class Londoners London at Home and at Leisure depicting the domestic life and amusements of Londoners of all classes and ages and London Streets and Public Life covering elections religious meetings famous trials jingoist celebrations and the funeral of Queen Victoria The Metropolis and Experience Hye-Joon Yoon,2011-10-18 Metropolis and Experience Defoe Dickens Joyce offers a close reading of the major texts of Defoe Dickens and Joyce in their respective historical contexts and in comparison with their intertextual companions from seventeenth century character pamphlets through Baudelaire to Calvino In doing so it challenges the quietist complacency of specialization prevalent in current academia to contribute to a critique of urban modernity in the tradition of Simmel Benjamin and Lefebvre Taking its cue from Benjamin s bisection of experience into subjective sensory Erlebnis and communal reflective Erfahrung Metropolis and Experience uses this binary pair as a categorical guide in its analysis of the stylistic and thematic adventures of the three centerpiece authors Whereas Defoe s novels embody a Simmelian metropolitan mentality through its narration of lived experience in paratactic prose Dickens strives to humanize the sprawling Victorian metropolis into an experience for communal sharing In Joyce s works the colonial dejections and belatedness of the Hibernian metropolis are transformed into an exuberant excess where both Erlebnis and Erfahrung meet their joyous end This investigation of the interconnections between the metropolis experience and the novel takes place in tandem with a sustained query on non literary subtopics such as finance capitalism and urban class antagonism This is literary criticism charged with relevance for the age of Occupy Wall Street
