The Llama Who Wished for Wings Lydia Chiappini,1999-02-01 Claude the little llama was a mischievous and playful fellow who liked to play a lot of tricks and one day he got his wish for wings God's Messengers Allen Anderson,Linda Anderson,2003 Do our relationships with animals bring us closer to God Angel Animals Book of Inspiration Allen Anderson,Linda Anderson,2009 In this extraordinary book the Andersons offer true stories about animals who all but prove the existence of miracles and whose unconditional love has healed their human companions during their darkest hours

Young Wings ,1945 The Magic Carousel Linda Ruggles,2024-01-30 Once upon a time in a land far far away there was a small town deep in a forest On the edge of town was a park with a beautiful magical carousel This carousel was different from most carousels This one didn't have horses to ride As a matter of fact there were no horses on this carousel The animals were wild animals such as polar bears koalas and cheetahs What made the carousel magical Every month on the night of the full moon something very exciting and unusual happens Stanley the caretaker of the carousel had magical powers that allowed him to send the animals on a real life adventure Each of the animals got the chance to see what it was like to be alive to be free to move instead of being stuck in one position and just going around and around and up and down all day When the animals were finished with their real life adventure they returned to the carousel and shared their experience with their friends They learned a lot about one another and you the reader can learn about the animals too

RED DANCER Rafael Fraguada,2013-03 While in a fine state of total inebriation Gabriel drained his vein onto a sand dune and perceived a most perfect being A godlike image appeared on a starless night while in country This powerful force would permit him safe passage through the conflict if he would replace an eyelash lost in a child's dream and return to the world or home with the souls of his dead comrades His five year old niece had given him an earring for good luck before he left for the war He wore the black crescent shape on a silver chain around his neck alongside a Saint Christopher medal This earring made it possible for him to return home with the souls of his more unfortunate companions Back from Southeast Asia he enters a saloon in New York City and chats with the owner He mentions he had served overseas This man asks for a quiet moment and summons the patrons to propose a toast No one takes him seriously as he is in his cups When the bartender turns up the jukebox the room resumes its convivial atmosphere of the 60s free love and introspection Realizing he is not amused he leaves for an evening with a war buddy and his young family It's the commencement of his postwar experience with souls in tow He finds solace with his body wasted My body's aching and I can't find my way home like the song plays out His years pass with no great interests and he gets by well enough with a day to day existence but has accomplished nothing but keeps himself in blue collar work and in more barrooms When he meets up with a wealthy acquaintance from a tiny Midwest college they had attended he thinks of him as a shimmering deity of sorts Wings the handsome poet who drove his hunter green Morgan sports car through Lake Forest's bright autumn afternoons down Sheridan Road scattering bushels of fallen leaves with selfless irony a smirk and no smile now conversed regularly with Gabriel who thinks him quite the fellow in the sense that anyone with that amount of wealth should be able to do the greatest things Wings had married while still in college and his wife gave birth to a daughter who kept him out of the draft The child was another man s progeny Wings too had to survive the war His conversation of manuscripts investments inheritance love entanglements with no resolution or sense didn t matter to Gabriel It made him feel wealthy by association One evening on a walk through Central Park they and Wings daughter Ruth sat in a clearing to enjoy a bottle of wine She slips a pill into Gabriel s cup without him batting an eye as they were out to enjoy themselves Wings leaves abruptly Ruth follows shortly As night falls he finally goes in search of his two friends He approaches a big man cloaked in an animal skin who is armed with a large broad sword Gabriel inquires about his friends and is aggressively attacked In short order he has this man on his knees crying for help which he can t see A woman comes to the fallen man s aid but he mistakenly strikes her with his weapon The former marine awakens the next morning and is arrested for the death of a woman not far from him He is released on bail and is presented with the opportunity of taking the fall After a short term in a psychiatric hospital he would be recompensed with a rather large sum of money Wings had arranged this to collect monies for himself and his daughter His wife had gone through his fortune Gabriel had never dreamed of such machinations His honor is at stake as that of his fellow war companions He decides to make a stand and dons an expensive navy blue suit over his service automatic and grabs a dagger On his way to Wings coop he finds himself walking through Central Park The intense clamoring of his men on his mind causes him to stumble and fall for an instant He shakes it off but doesn t know who he is In the waning daylight he wanders through a sett
