Death, Ritual, and Bereavement Ralph Houlbrooke, 2020-01-10. Originally published in 1989, Death, Ritual, and Bereavement examines the social history of death and dying from 1500 to the 1930s. This edited collection focuses on the death bed, funerals, burials, mourning customs, and the expression of grief. The essays throw fresh light on developments which lie at the roots of present-day tendencies to minimize or conceal the most unpleasant aspects of death, among them the growing participation of doctors in the management of death beds in the eighteenth century and the creation of extra-mural cemeteries followed by the introduction of cremation in the nineteenth century. The volume also underlines the importance of religious belief in helping the bereaved in past times. The book will appeal to students and academics of family and social history, as well as history of medicine, religion, and anthropology.

Documenting Mobility in the Japanese Empire and Beyond Takahiro Yamamoto, 2022-11-07. This book tackles the question of border control in and around imperial Japan in the first half of the twentieth century, with a specific focus on its documentation regime. It explores the institutional development, media, and literary discourses, and on the ground practices of documentary identification in the Japanese empire and the places visited by its subjects. The contributing authors, covering such regions as Korea, Manchuria, Taiwan, Siberia, Australia, and the United States, place the question of individual identity in the eyes of the respective governments in dialogue with the global developments of the identification and mobility control practices. The chapters suggest the importance of focusing more than previously on the narrative of individual identification, not as a tool for creating nation-states but as a tool for generating, strengthening, and maintaining asymmetrical relationships between people of different socioeconomic backgrounds who moved in and out of empires. This book joins the effort in the recent scholarship in migration history to highlight experiences of migrants beyond the transatlantic world and that in East Asian history to investigate the space and connections beyond the boundaries of the nation-states. By bringing together the analyses on the trans-Pacific mobility and Japan's imperial expansion and its aftermath in East Asia, it shows a complex interplay between state power and moving individuals, two forces whose relationships went far beyond simple competition.
