The Long Gap:

A Geometric Mechanism for Diffusion in Hamiltonian Systems Overcoming the Large Gap Problem: Heuristics and Rigorous Verification on a Model Amadeu Delshams, Rafael de la Llave, Tere M. Seara, 2006 Beginning by introducing a geometric mechanism for diffusion in a priori unstable nearly integrable dynamical systems This book is based on the observation that resonances besides destroying the primary KAM tori create secondary tori and tori of lower dimension It argues that these objects created by resonances can be incorporated in transition chains taking the place of the destroyed primary KAM tori The authors establish rigorously the existence of this mechanism in a simple model that has been studied before The main technique is to develop a toolkit to study in a unified way tori of different topologies and their invariant manifolds their intersections as well as shadowing properties of these bi asymptotic orbits This toolkit is based on extending and unifying standard techniques A new tool used here is the scattering map of normally hyperbolic invariant manifolds The model considered is a one parameter family which for $\epsilon = 0$ is an integrable system We give a small number of explicit conditions the jet of order 3 of the family that if verified imply diffusion The conditions are just that some explicitly constructed functionals do not vanish identically or have non degenerate critical points etc An attractive feature of the mechanism is that the transition chains are shorter in the places where the heuristic intuition and numerical experimentation suggests that the diffusion is strongest

The Perceptual Structure of Sound Dik J. Hermes, 2023-06-10 This book presents a comprehensive review of how acoustic waves are processed by the auditory system into structured sounds such as musical melodies speech utterances or environmental sounds After an introduction an overview is given of how the ears distribute acoustic information over a large array of frequency channels that contain the auditory information used by the central nervous system to generate a mental image of what is happening around the listener This process called auditory scene analysis consists of two stages In the first stage auditory units are formed such as musical tones and speech syllables Each auditory unit is perceived at a well defined moment in time the beat location of that auditory unit Moreover from this process of auditory unit formation the auditory attributes of these auditory units emerge such as their timbre their pitch their loudness and their perceived location Each of these attributes is discussed in the corresponding chapter In the second stage of auditory scene analysis auditory stream formation the successive auditory units are integrated into auditory streams i e temporally structured sequences of auditory units that are perceived as emanating from one and the same sound source Examples of such auditory streams are musical melodies and the utterances of one speaker The temporal structure of an auditory stream its rhythm is determined by the beat locations of its auditory units The role played by the auditory attributes of the consecutive auditory units is discussed The melodies of musical streams and the intonation contours of spoken utterances emerge from this process In music the beats of parallel streams generally fit into a metric pattern and depending on harmony simultaneous tones can be perceived as consonant or dissonant Finally the book contains many sound examples including the MATLAB scripts with which they are generated Current Topics in Membranes and Transport, 1989-01-01
