Speckled People Memoir Of A Half Irish Childhood:

The Speckled People Hugo Hamilton, 2011-10-04 Adapted for the stage from the best selling memoir The Speckled People tells a profoundly moving story of a young boy trapped in a language war Set in 1950s Ireland this is a gripping poignant and at times very funny family drama of homesickness control and identity As a young boy Hugo Hamilton struggles with what it means to be speckled half and half Irish on top and German below An idealistic Irish father enforces his cultural crusade by forbidding his son to speak English while his German mother tries to rescue him with her warm hearted humour and uplifting industry The boy must free himself from his father and from bullies on the street who persecute him with taunts of Nazism Above all he must free himself from history and from the terrible secrets of his mother and father before he can find a place where he belongs Surrounded by fear guilt and frequently comic cultural entanglements Hugo tries to understand the differences between Irish history and German history and to turn the strange logic of what he is told into truth It is a journey that ends in liberation but not before the long buried secrets at the back of the parents wardrobe have been laid bare

Nimble Tongues Steven G. Kellman, 2020-02-15 Nimble Tongues is a collection of essays that continues Steven G Kellman's work in the fertile field of translingualism focusing on the phenomenon of switching languages A series of investigations and reflections rather than a single thesis the collection is perhaps more akin in its aims if not accomplishment to George Steiner's Extraterritorial Papers on Literature and the Language Revolution or Umberto Eco's Travels in Hyperreality Topics covered include the significance of translingualism translation and its challenges immigrant memoirs the autobiographies that Ariel Dorfman wrote in English and Spanish respectively the only feature film ever made in Esperanto Francesca Marciano an Italian who writes in English Jhumpa Lahiri who has abandoned English for Italian Ilan Stavans a prominent translingual author and scholar Hugo Hamilton a writer who grew up torn among Irish German and English Antonio Ruiz Camacho a Mexican who writes in English and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights as a multilingual text

"Blighted Beginnings" Jonathan Bolton, 2010 This book also looks at how authors have persistently used the bildungsroman to complicate and challenge the idealization of the family exposing the divorce ban as symptomatic of an unrealistic notion of domestic inviolability This study concludes with a discussion of the future of the bildungsroman in a country that has transcended many of its formative crises This chapter considers Doyle's A Star Called Henry as a text that inaugurates a new phase in Irish coming of age narratives in which many of the problems of Irish life formerly treated so earnestly and tragically can be a source of play and humor By looking at a comprehensive range of novels by writers like Sean O Faolain Elizabeth Bowen Edna O'Brien and William Trevor as well as lesser known figures like Eimar O Duffy Francis MacManus and Mary Morrissy Blighted Beginnings traces the evolving concerns of Irish writers as they pushed for a greater accommodation of individual freedoms and aspirations

BOOK JACKET Narratives of Conflict, Belonging, and the State
Brigitte M. French, 2018-04-27 Using key perspectives from Linguistic anthropology the book illuminates how social actors take up the ideals of law equality and democratic representation in locally meaningful ways to make their own national history in ways that may perpetuate violence and inequality Focusing specifically on post war conditions in Ireland the author contextualizes commonplace practices by which citizens are made to learn the gap between official membership in and political belonging to a democratic state Each chapter takes up a different aspect of state authority and power to constitute citizenship to enact laws to mediate conflict and to create histories in the context of social inequalities and political hostilities This book is an excellent ethnographic addition to courses in linguistic anthropology giving readers the opportunity to explore applications and ramifications of key theoretical text within research

Exploring Transculturalism Wolfgang Berg,Aoileann Ní Éigeartaigh,2010-07-08 1 2 Culture and Identity in a Postmodern World Michel Foucault s statement that The present epoch will perhaps be above all the epoch of space We are in the epoch of simultaneity we are in the epoch of juxtaposition M Foucault 1986 22 heralded a new approach to identity in the contemporary world by suggesting that one s identity is formed not as a result of the cultural and national values and history one has inherited but rather as a result of the different spaces through which one travels In other words one s identity is no longer perceived as an inherited construct but rather as something flexible that changes as one moves through the more fluid spaces of the contemporary globalized world and internalizes a mixture of the different cultures and ideas that one encounters The idealized contemporary traveller will thus effortlessly cross national and cultural borders and negotiate a constantly changing and flexible identity for himself Andy Bennett argues that it is no longer even possible to conceive of identity as a static entity forged from a communal history and value system because all of the traditional certainties on which identity formation were based in the past have been fatally undermined by a postmodernist flux and fluidity Once clearly demarcated by relatively static and ethnically homogenous communities the spaces and places of everyday life are now highly pluralistic and contested and are constantly being defined and redefined through processes of relocation and cultural
