

Speculations from Political Economy

Charles Baron Clarke

The background of the lower half of the image is a solid blue field. Overlaid on this field is a complex, abstract pattern of red lines and shapes. The pattern consists of numerous straight lines of varying lengths and orientations, some of which intersect to form right angles, creating a grid-like or architectural feel. Interspersed among these lines are several solid red geometric shapes, including triangles of different sizes and orientations, and some curved, semi-circular or quarter-circle segments. The overall effect is a dynamic and somewhat chaotic yet structured geometric composition.
