Sound-Based Assistive Technology Tohru Ifukube, 2017-03-06 This book presents a technology to help speech hearing and sight impaired people. It explains how they will benefit from an enhancement in their ability to recognize and produce speech or to detect sounds in their surroundings. Additionally, it is considered how sound-based assistive technology might be applied to the areas of speech recognition, speech synthesis, environmental recognition, virtual reality, and robots. The primary focus of this book is to provide an understanding of both the methodology and basic concepts of assistive technology rather than listing the variety of assistive devices developed. This book presents a number of different topics which are sufficiently independent from one another that the reader may begin at any chapter without lacking background information. Much of the research quoted in this book was conducted in the author's laboratories at Hokkaido University and University of Tokyo. This book offers the reader a better understanding of a number of unsolved problems that still persist in the field of sound-based assistive technology.

Dual Learning Tao Qin, 2020-11-13 Many AI and machine learning tasks present in dual forms, e.g., English to Chinese translation vs. Chinese to English translation, speech recognition vs. speech synthesis, question answering vs. question generation, and image classification vs. image generation. Dual learning is a new learning framework that leverages the primal dual structure of AI tasks to obtain effective feedback or regularization signals in order to enhance the learning inference process Since it was first introduced four years ago the concept has attracted considerable attention in multiple fields and been proven effective in numerous applications such as machine translation image to image translation speech synthesis and recognition visual question answering and generation image captioning and generation and code summarization and generation Offering a systematic and comprehensive overview of dual learning this book enables interested researchers both established and newcomers and practitioners to gain a better understanding of the state of the art in the field It also provides suggestions for further reading and tools to help readers advance the area The book is divided into five parts The first part gives a brief introduction to machine learning and deep learning The second part introduces the algorithms based on the dual reconstruction principle using machine translation image translation speech processing and other NLP CV tasks as the demo applications It covers algorithms such as dual semi supervised learning dual unsupervised learning and multi agent dual learning In the context of image translation it introduces algorithms including CycleGAN DualGAN DiscoGAN cdGAN and more recent techniques applications The third part presents various work based on the probability principle including dual supervised learning and dual inference based on the joint probability principle and dual semi supervised learning based on the marginal probability principle The fourth part reviews various theoretical studies on dual learning and discusses its connections to other learning paradigms The fifth part provides a summary and suggests future research directions
