Analysis and Interpretative Phenomenological Analysis Kevin W. H. Tai, 2023-04-05 This book presents the methodological framework of combining Multimodal Conversation Analysis MCA with Interpretative Phenomenological Analysis IPA to interpretively analyse translanguaging practices in educational contexts Beginning with an overview of the three uses of translanguaging translanguaging as a theory of language as a pedagogical practice and as an analytical perspective the book goes on to critically examine the different methodological approaches for analysing translanguaging practices in multilingual classroom interactions It explains how MCA and IPA are useful methodologies for understanding how and why translanguaging practices are constructed by participants in the classroom and discusses types of data collected and data collection procedures The author Kevin W H Tai shows how combining these approaches enables researchers to study how translanguaging practices are constructed in multilingual classrooms and how teachers make sense of their own translanguaging practices at particular moments of classroom interaction This detailed and concise guide is indispensable for students practitioners policymakers and researchers from across the globe particularly those working in the fields of applied linguistics and language education Ethnomethodology, Conversation Analysis and Constructive Analysis

Graham Button, Michael Lynch, Wes Sharrock, 2022-09-23 This book revisits the arguments by which Harvey Sacks and Harold Garfinkel opposed the widespread attempt in the social sciences to construct disciplinary theories and methods in place of common sense knowledge of human action and proposed instead an alternative that would investigate the organised methods of natural language use and common sense reasoning that constitute social orders arguments that led to the establishment and proliferation of ethnomethodology and conversation analysis As the very constructive analysis that they opposed has begun to be incorporated into influential lines of research in ethnomethodology and conversation analysis the authors return to the founding insights of the field and reiterate the importance of Garfinkel and Sacks original and controversial proposals for an alternate sociology of practical action and practical reasoning Showing how constructive analysis has become entrenched in ethnomethodology and conversation analysis and arguing for a need to re boot these approaches this volume constitutes a call for a renewal of the radical alternative proposed by Garfinkel and Sacks

Harvey Sacks : Social Science and Conversation Analysis London David Silverman Professor of Sociology Goldsmiths College,1998-09-30 Harvey Sacks s early death in 1975 robbed the social sciences of one of its most original thinkers Although he published relatively little in his lifetime his lectures and papers were enormously influential in sociology and sociolinguistics and they played a major role in the development of ethnomethodology and conversation analysis The recent publication of Sacks s Lectures on Conversation has provided an excellent opportunity for a wide ranging reassessment of his contribution In this new book David Silverman provides a clear introduction to Sacks s work and reassesses its value for sociology linguistics anthropology and psychology Using a variety of examples he explains Sacks s ideas on method language and talk interaction He argues that Sack s work offers a highly original perspective on language and social life and raises fundamental questions for the social sciences questions which after more than twenty years remain vitally important and largely unanswered Written in a lively and accessible way this book will be of particular interest to students of sociology sociolinguistics social theory and method but it will also be of interest to students and researchers in anthropology psychology and related disciplines
