Talking With Tebe Clementine Hunter Memory Artist:

Talking with Tebé Clementine Hunter, 1998 Born in northwest Louisiana in 1886 Called Tebe by her family Hunter lived and worked on Melrose Plantation for more than 75 years In colors as bright as the Louisiana sky she shows the backbreaking work required to pick cotton gather figs cut sugar cane and harvest pecans Tebe's art portrays the good times too Scenes of baptisms weddings and church socials celebrate a rich community life that helped the workers survive Hunter's work holds a special place in art history She was the first self taught artist to receive a fellowship from the Rosenwald Fund in 1945 and the first self taught African American woman artist to receive national media attention Between 1945 and 1987 over fifty museums and galleries showed her works Some writers have called Clementine Hunter a creative genius To others she was not a real artist but a plantation Negro Many were surprised that an older woman with no training could produce art at all Now considered one of the finest folk artists

American Folk Art Kristin G. Congdon, Kara Kelley Hallmark, 2012-03-19 Folk art is as varied as it is indicative of person and place informed by innovation and grounded in cultural context The variety and versatility of 300 American folk artists is captured in this collection of informative and thoroughly engaging essays American Folk Art A Regional Reference offers a collection of fascinating essays on the life and work of 300 individual artists Some of the men and women profiled in these two volumes are well known while others are important practitioners who have yet to receive the notice they merit Because many of the artists in both categories have a clear identity with their land and culture the work is organized by geographical region and includes an essay on each region to help make connections visible There is also an introductory essay on U S folk art as a whole Those writing about folk art to date tend to view each artist as either traditional or innovative One of the major contributions of this work is that it demonstrates that folk artists more often exhibit both traits they are grounded in their cultural context and creative in the way they make work their own Such insights expand the study of folk art even as they readjust readers understanding of who folk artists are

Black Gathering Sarah Jane Cervenak, 2021-08-09 In Black Gathering Sarah Jane Cervenak engages with Black artists and writers who create alternative spaces for Black people to gather free from interruption or regulation Drawing together Black feminist theory critical theories of ecology and ecoaesthetics and Black aesthetics Cervenak shows how novelists poets and visual artists such as Gayl Jones Toni Morrison Clementine Hunter Samiya Bashir and Leonardo Drew advance an ecological imagination that unsettles Western philosophical ideas of the earth as given to humans In their aestheticization and conceptualization of gathering these artists investigate the relationships among art the environment home and forms of Black togetherness

Cervenak argues that by offering a formal and conceptual praxis of gathering Black artists imagine liberation and alternative ways of being in the world that exist beyond those Enlightenment philosophies that presume Black people and earth as given to enclosure and ownership Louisiana Rita LaDoux,2001-09-01 An introduction to the geography history economy people environmental issues and interesting sites of Louisiana
