Tannoy Calling A Story Of Canadian Airmen Flying Against Nazi Germany:

Tannoy Calling John H. McQuiston, 1990-01-01 The Mystery of Frankenberg's Canadian Airman Peter Hessel, 2005-09-02 The Mystery of Frankenberg's Airman is the account of painstaking research in a quest for the truth about an unsolved war crime The Crucible of War, 1939-1945 Brereton Greenhous, Sydney F. Wise, Canada. Department of National Defence, Canada. Royal Canadian Air Force, Stephen J. Harris, William C. Johnston, William C. Rawling, 1994-01-01 The RCAF with a total strength of 4061 officers and men on 1 September 1939 grew by the end of the war to a strength of more than 263 000 men and women This important and well illustrated new history shows how they contributed to the resolution of the most significant conflict of our time Anglo-Canadian Wartime Relations, 1939-1945 William S. Carter, 1991 No Prouder Place David L. Bashow, 2005 No Prouder Place provides a fresh and objective look at the bombing campaign by emphasizing the highly significant role it played in defeating the Axis powers It is a story of sustained courage in the face of daunting odds as well as a celebration of the Canadian aircrew experience and its place in wartime Bomber Command The text contains scores of original recollections from the veterans themselves interwoven with material from primary archival and secondary sources It is illustrated with original art work by Ron Lowry including colour side profiles of selected Bomber Command from RCAF units and Luftwaffe aircraft Bibliographie internationale d'histoire militaire , 1995 Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 1991 Books in Print , 1993-09 V 1 Authors A D v 2 Authors E K v 3 Authors L R v 4 S Z v 5 Titles A D v 6 Titles E K v 7 Titles L Q v 8 Titles R Z v 9 Out of print out of stock indefinitely v 10 Publishers Canadian Airmen and the First World War Sydney F. Wise, 1980 The first of three volumes of the Official History of the Royal Canadian Air Force this book provides the definitive story of Canadian airmen in World War I and moreover a revisionist account of the war in the air Organized topically this volume begins with an overview of military aviation in Canada prior to 1914 as successful aircraft experiments like Baldwin's and McCurdy's Silver Dart are set against Defence Minister Sam Hughes rejection of any government air policy Financial timidity and political uncertainty subsequently decreed that the 20 000 Canadians who trained for or fought in history's first air war would have no air force of their own but would fly in the British flying services The sections which follow show that Canadians excelled in every aspect of the air war Indeed although the First World War never saw an exclusively Canadian squadron in action and no Canadian rose to a command above Group level Professor Wise has been able to write a full account of the war in the air from the Canadian perspective Recruitment and training the maritime air war the strategic bombing of Germany and the defence of Great Britain as well as action on the Western Front in Italy and in Macedonia are all covered in depth Each section reveals the complexity of air operations as tactics strategy and aircraft evolved with astonishing speed The exploits of remarkable fighter aces such as Billy Bishop Raymond Collishaw D R MacLaren and W G Barker and of bomber leaders like R H Mulock are set in the context of the air war and the many thousands of Canadians who served with them In his conclusion Wise traces the development of Canadian government air policy to the year 1920 during which time the first Canadian air force was born and quickly died In analysing this major step in Canada s entry into the air age he lays the foundation for postwar civil expansion and the formation of the RCAF Illustrated with specially prepared colour and sketch maps and over 200 photographs many of them published here for the first time this book should prove invaluable to the military historian and of wide appeal to the aviation enthusiast and general reader alike The other volumes in the Official History of the Royal Canadian Air Force are The Creation of a National Air Force by W A B Douglas out of print and The Crucible of War 1939 1945 by Brereton Greenhous et al available
