Tantra And Popular Religion In Tibet:

Tantra and Popular Religion in Tibet Geoffrey Samuel, Hamish Gregor, Elisabeth Stutchbury, 1994 Papers presented at a session of a conference held at the University of Newcastle New South Wales Australia in August 1988 Tantra and Popular Religion in Tibet Samuel Geoffrey, 1994 Tantric Revisionings Geoffrey Samuel, 2005 Relating to Tibetan Buddhism and Indian religion this work is a collection of articles These articles are linked by their subject matter and they are also linked by a common approach to religion Tantric Buddhism and Altered States of Consciousness Louise Child, 2016-04-01 This book explores the role of altered states of consciousness in the communication of social and emotional energies both on a societal level and between individual persons Drawing from an original reading of Durkheimian social theorists including Mauss Hertz and Hubert and Jungian psychology Louise Child applies this analysis to tantric Buddhist ritual and biographical material She suggests ways in which dreams and visionary experiences including those related to the subtle body play an important and previously under explored role in tantric understandings of the consort relationship

Tantric Revisionings Geoffrey Samuel, 2017-09-08 Tantric Revisionings presents stimulating new perspectives on Hindu and Buddhist religion particularly their Tantric versions in India Tibet or in modern Western societies Geoffrey Samuel adopts an historically and textually informed anthropological approach seeking to locate and understand religion in its social and cultural context The question of the relation between popular folk domestic village shamanic religion and elite literary textual monastic religion forms a recurring theme through these studies Six chapters have not been previously published the previously published studies included are in publications which are difficult to locate outside major specialist libraries

Goldstein, Matthew T. Kapstein, 2023-09-01 Following the upheavals of the Cultural Revolution the People's Republic of China gradually permitted the renewal of religious activity Tibetans whose traditional religious and cultural institutions had been decimated during the preceding two decades took advantage of the decisions of 1978 to begin a Buddhist renewal that is one of the most extensive and dramatic examples of religious revitalization in contemporary China. The nature of that revival is the focus of this book. Four leading specialists in Tibetan anthropology and religion conducted case studies in the Tibet autonomous region and among the Tibetans of Sichuan and Qinghai provinces. There they observed the revival of the Buddhist heritage in monastic communities and among laypersons at popular pilgrimages and festivals. Demonstrating how that revival must contend with tensions between the Chinese state and aspirations for greater Tibetan autonomy, the authors discuss ways that Tibetan Buddhists are restructuring their religion through a complex process of social, political, and economic adaptation. Buddhism has long been the main source of Tibetans' pride in their culture and country. These essays reveal the vibrancy of that ancient religion in contemporary Tibet and also the problems that religion and Tibetan culture in general are facing in a radically altered world. Following the upheavals of the Cultural Revolution, the People's Republic of China gradually permitted the renewal of religious activity. Tibetans whose traditional religious and cultural institutions had been decimated during the preceding two decades.

Religion and Biography in China and Tibet
Benjamin Penny, 2013-09-05. The Chinese and Tibetan traditions value biography as a primary historiographical and literary genre. This volume analyses biographies as texts, taking seriously the literary turn in historical and religious studies and applying some of its insights to an understudied but central corpus of material in Chinese and Tibetan religion.

Identity, Ritual and State in Tibetan Buddhism
Martin A. Mills, 2013-11-05. This is a major anthropological study of contemporary Tibetan Buddhist monasticism and tantric ritual in the Ladakh region of North West India and of the role of tantric ritual in the formation and maintenance of traditional forms of state structure and political consciousness in Tibet. Containing detailed descriptions and analyses of monastic ritual, the work builds up a picture of Tibetan tantric traditions as they interact with more localised understandings of bodily identity and territorial cosmology to produce a substantial re-interpretation of the place of monks as ritual performers and peripheral householders in Ladakh. The work also examines the central and indispensable role of incarnate lamas such as the Dalai Lama in the religious life of Tibetan Buddhists.

Love Letters from Golok
Holly Gayley, 2016-12-06. Love Letters from Golok chronicles the courtship between two Buddhist tantric masters, Tare Lhamo (1938–2002) and Namtrul Rinpoche (1944–2011) and their passion for reinvigorating Buddhism in eastern Tibet during the post-Mao era. In fifty-six letters exchanged from 1978 to 1980, Tare Lhamo and Namtrul Rinpoche envisioned a shared destiny to heal the damage done to Buddhism during the years leading up to and including the Cultural Revolution. Holly Gayley retrieves the personal and prophetic dimensions of their courtship and its consummation in a twenty-year religious career that informs issues of gender and agency in Buddhism, cultural preservation among Tibetan communities, and alternative histories for minorities in China. The correspondence between Tare Lhamo and Namtrul Rinpoche is the first collection of love letters to come to light in Tibetan literature. Blending tantric imagery with poetic and folk song styles, their letters have a fresh vernacular tone comparable to the love songs of the Sixth Dalai Lama but with an eastern Tibetan flavor.

Gayley reads these letters against hagiographic writings about the couple supplemented by field research to illuminate representational strategies that serve to narrate cultural trauma in a redemptive key quite unlike Chinese scar literature or the testimonials of exile Tibetans With special attention to Tare Lhamo's role as a tantric heroine and her hagiographic fusion with Namtrul Rinpoche Gayley vividly shows how Buddhist masters have adapted Tibetan literary genres to share private intimacies and address contemporary social concerns
