Kyle, 1998-05 People who are promoted because of the skills and competencies that have made them successful often experience a dramatic change in behavior when they assume a new higher powered position This book offers readers the ability to move into new positions of leadership with the tools needed to become inspiring leaders Understanding Leadership Robert M McManus, Gamaliel Perruci, 2015-04-10 Lao Tzu Marx the Buddha Ibsen Machiavelli these are just a few of the world's great thinkers who have weighed in on the subject of leadership over the centuries. Yet the contemporary student of leadership often overlooks many of these names in favour of more recent theorists hailing from the social sciences. Understanding Leadership: An Arts and Humanities Perspective takes a different angle, employing the works of the great philosophers, authors, and artists found in world civilization and presenting an arts and humanities perspective on the study of leadership. The authors build their conceptual framework using The Five Components of Leadership Model, which recognizes the leader, the followers, the goal, the environmental context, and the cultural values and norms that make up the leadership process. Supporting the text are a wealth of case studies which reflect on works such as Ayn Rand's novella Anthem, Eugène Delacroix's painting Liberty Leading the People, Charlie Chaplin's film Modern Times, Athol Fugard's play Master Harold and the Boys, Lao Tzu's poetic work Tao Te Ching, and Antonín Dvořák's New World Symphony. The authors also introduce studies from various world cultures to particularly illustrate the role cultural values and norms play in leadership. This illuminating framework promotes the multidimensional thinking that is necessary for understanding and problem solving in a complex world. Understanding Leadership: An Arts and Humanities Perspective will be a valuable textbook for both undergraduate and postgraduate leadership students, while leadership professionals will also appreciate the book's unique liberal arts and cultural approach.

Meeting the Ethical Challenges of Leadership Craig E. Johnson, 2011-02-28 The Fourth Edition retains the elements of the text that have contributed to its success while also broadening its appeal. Written in an informal, accessible style, author Craig E. Johnson takes an interdisciplinary approach to leadership ethics while blending research and theory with practical application. This unique text promotes ethical decision making and action through skill development, self-assessment, and application exercises. In the Fourth Edition, a new chapter, Ethical Crisis Leadership, explains five ethical principles and strategies that are essential to fulfilling moral duties during times of crisis. Leadership Ethics at the Movies features present short summaries of feature films that portray ethical dilemmas. Discussion starters are included to prompt readers to draw ethical implications and applications from the films. Self-Assessment features measure the reader's performance on an important behaviour, skill, or concept discussed in the chapter. Implications and Applications review key ideas and their ramifications for the reader as a leader. For Further Exploration, Challenge, and Assessment encourages readers to engage in extended reflection and self-analysis. Focus on Follower Ethics boxes that broaden coverage of the text and introduce concepts students can apply to their role as followers. Three cases per chapter offer real-world examples for analysis and reflection. A lengthy reference section at the end of the book serves as a starting point for further research and exploration. Instructors' Resources include teaching strategies, a test bank, sample syllabi, assignment descriptions, and more.

Leadership as a Habit of Mind Barbara Mackoff, Gary Wernet, 2005 Leadership as a Habit of Mind is an insightful and original work. The book is compulsively readable for its stories of personal experiences that have shaped the way leaders think and act. Even better, it offers a new concept: habits of mind that will help other leaders and would-be leaders to
