Reading Popular Physics Elizabeth Leane, 2007 Elizabeth Leane's Reading Popular Physics is a valuable contribution to our understanding of the nature and implications of physics popularizations Focusing particularly on five bestselling books A Brief History of Time The First Three Minutes Chaos Complexity and The Dancing Wu Li Masters Leane analyzes the textual strategies by which popularizers of science influence the public Her book offers readers a fresh perspective on this highly visible and influential genre

The Social Relations of Physics, Mysticism, and Mathematics S. Restivo, 2012-12-06 The problems I address in this book are among the least studied in the sociology of science and knowledge Part I is a critique of the claim that there are parallels between ancient mysticism and modern physics and a sociological analysis of this claim as a strategy in intellectual conflict This study must ultimately be rooted more firmly in a type of sociology of knowledge that is just now beginning to crystallize and which I discuss in Chapter 7 and a sociology of religion that is not so much unknown as underground and timid that is a non worshipful materialist sociology of religion My study of physics mysticism parallelism is a vehicle for exploring epistemic strategies I thus conclude Part I by sketching a materialist emancipatory epistemic strategy My conclusion brings together a number of ideas formulated by myself and others over the past several years but stops short of a systematic synthesis A more integrated and coherent model than what I can sketch here must wait on the results of research now in progress in the critical as opposed to apologetic or worshipful sociology of knowledge

Friendship in Doubt Richard Kaczynski, 2024 Rebellious against Victorian religious and social strictures occultist Aleister Crowley soldier J F C Fuller and poet Victor Neuburg were active contributors and participants in the British secularist movement at the dawn of the twentieth century Friendship in Doubt examines how the Agnostic movement inspired and introduced them to each other as foundational figures in the new religious movement of Thelema Matter and Meaning Michael Fuller, 2010-02-19 We live in a material world But what is matter Can it point us towards meanings outside itself or can any meaning it possesses only be invested in it by human beings To what extent might these semantic activities overlap How have our current understandings of matter and meaning developed from those of past thinkers in both Western and non Western contexts These and many other questions were addressed at a conference held under the auspices of the Science and Religion Forum at Liverpool Hope University in 2008 That conference brought together some leading figures in the disciplines of theology and the natural sciences and a selection of the papers given at it is now presented in this book They offer important new historical scientific and theological insights from a variety of perspectives to those with an interest in the fast developing area of the dialogue between these disciplines and they will also be found valuable by anyone who wishes to explore the complexities of this dialogue as it moves beyond the black and white histrionics of its presentation in the popular media Dawn of Mind James Cooke, 2024-12-03 Although consciousness is at the very center of who we are its exact nature continues to confound modern science From where does consciousness originate At our core are we material bodies or immaterial conscious minds Many assume that consciousness is a product of our complex brains a product of evolution and yet there is no evolutionary reason that a mechanical function of the brain should allow us to enjoy the beauty of a sunrise or become intoxicated with the smell of rain on dry earth If consciousness is not the product of sophisticated human brains might the nonhuman living world be conscious If so where does that place us in relation to the rest of life on Earth and what does this imply about our domination and plundering of the natural world for resources Dr James Cooke is no stranger to intricate and existential questions such as these and he confronts them head on in his compelling inventive revolutionary new book The Dawn of Mind Weaving together cutting edge science and the contemplative insights that arise from mystical experience as occurs with meditation and the emerging therapeutic paradigm of psychedelic medicine Cooke radically redraws our understanding of what it truly means to be who we are Though Cooke approaches the question of consciousness from a rigorous scientific stance his first foray into the study of consciousness was an intensely personal one On a bus ride through Colchester the ancient Roman capital of Britain Cooke spontaneously felt himself feeling intensely and fully connected with the natural world around him his sense of self fell away entirely This transcendent moment inspired years of scientific study and the contemplative exploration of personal mystical experiences leading Cooke to a stunning revelation our sense of self is not an objective fact but an illusion a survival technique we use to try and find order in a disorderly world We each construct a boundary between ourselves and the natural world constantly simulating what will happen around us in order to survive and navigate our surroundings Consider this how long would you make it if you were crossing a busy street and only reacted to an oncoming car reflexively once you felt its touch on your skin Unlike the self however consciousness is no such illusion and is the product of the very same survival process it is the simulation in which our sense of self appears Of course we aren't the only creatures who function in this way According to Cooke consciousness is not complex brain function that only we possess but a deeply embodied phenomenon an essential feature of being a living thing Sure we aren't conscious in the same way as a tree or a worm but as living things we are all conscious just maybe this notion of our dominion over all other life on earth was a ruse all along Understanding consciousness in this way is not just some theoretical exercise As climate change amplifies by the day a growing chorus of voices insists that our fundamental disconnect from nature is at the root of our ecological crisis Healing the divide between nature and consciousness may be the key to extricating ourselves from this dire predicament
